14c Boost For Railway 'Non-Ops'

OTTAWA (CP)—The majority report of the Milvain Conciliation Board today recommended a three-stage wage boost amounting to 14 cents an hour for some 118,000 "no-op" railway workers across Canada.

The majority proposal—slightly more than half the pay increase originally demanded by the 15 "no-op" unions—was put forward by Mr. Justice J. V. Milvain of Calgary, board chairman, and endorsed fully by David Lewis, Toronto lawyer and CCF national president, nominated by the unions.

Montreal lawyer Philip Vineberg, railway nominee, opposed the wage award.

The compromise settlement, not binding on either the six railways or the 15 unions involved in the dispute, calls for a two-year contract to Dec. 31, 1961, with:

1. An hourly increase of two cents retroactive to Jan. 1.
2. Another five-cent hourly pay boost effective Sept. 1.
3. A final increase of 4 per cent, to be paid May 1, 1961.

The increases, which amount to 14 cents an hour, will keep "no-op" railway pay in line with wages paid in the durable goods industry—but not match them, the board report said.

The reports were released by Labor Minister Starr with a statement that the report of the chairman and Mr. Lewis "constitutes the report of the board."

LONGER VACATION

The report also recommended that railway workers with 25 years of service be granted four weeks vacation with pay each year. Only 35-year men get a four-week paid holiday at present.

A railway demand for a 10-cent charge per worker for handling the check-off of union dues was turned down. The three stages of the 14-cent wage increase will raise average hourly earnings of the "no-op" workers to $1.91 by next May.

Wage rates among "no-op" rail employees vary widely because of the vast range of jobs and skills.

The "no-op" unions—so-called because they bargain for railway workers who do not actually operate trains—originally demanded a two-year contract with a pay increase of seven per cent plus 12½ cents an hour. This would work out to about 25 cents an hour.

The majority report recommendation would cost the railways about $35,000,000 a year if granted.

'FIRST IN EVERYTHING' NIXON'S BOAST FOR U.S.

DETROIT (UPI)—Vice-President Richard M. Nixon declared today the United States is "first in the world" militarily, economically, scientifically and educationally.

"We have the determination to maintain that position in the years ahead," the Republican vice-presidential nominee said.

Nixon made the statements before the 61st convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

BENNETT:

Start 'Soon' By Wengren

DAWSON CREEK (CP)—Premier Bennett said here Tuesday night he believes the vast $600,000,000 Peace River project will be developed sooner than most people think.

He told a public meeting of about 500 persons that Wengren interests have spent $9,000,000 on surveys by the best engineers in the world on the project.

"As far as I understand it they are going right along with their plans and I'm confident that Peace River power will be developed. I'm one of those who thinks that we need the power from both the Columbia and the Peace Rivers."

OFFERED B.C. HYDRO

The premier said northern waters were offered to B.C. Hydro some years ago, but they were not interested. B.C. Hydro was interested in developing the Columbia when that great billion-dollar plan came into being.

"Our government is one that believes in both private and public enterprise and we will need all the capital that can be obtained by both government guarantees and private enterprise."

The premier made much the same speech he did in opening his northern election campaign in Fort St. John Monday night. But at one point referring to the homeowner grant—raised this year to $50 as a tax-reduction measure for homeowners—he said it came from revenues and declared:

"As revenues increase we will certainly increase it—but that is not a promise."

PNR WILL GO AHEAD

On the proposed 700-mile Pacific Northern Railway from Prince George to the Yukon border, the premier said the private Wenner-Gren promoters had spent millions on surveys and if they didn't go ahead "they will lose it all."

"I think it will go ahead." In contrast to his arrival in Fort St. John, when he was met by a lone local dignitary, the 59-year-old premier rode in a motorcade through Dawson.

Herter Hints Action on Cuba

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—State-Secretary Christian Herter today urged American foreign ministers to show their grave concern over Cuba's "toleration and encouragement of Communist intervention in the hemisphere's affairs."

Taking up the Cuba question at the meeting of the Organization of American States' foreign ministers, Herter declared events indicate Cuba's leaders are directing the island nation "in the Communist direction."

Herter named the Soviet Union and Red China as the Communist powers moving in on the hemisphere and said:

"We should call for effective resistance to these efforts of the Sino-Soviet block and restate the validity of our regional association and its principles as guide and instrument for our continued co-operation."

Herter did not spell out what steps should be taken.

APPEAL TO CUBA

Some of the foreign ministers already have urged Cuba to disavow its ties with the Soviet Union and Red China and reaffirm its faith in the inter-American system.

Cuban Premier Fidel Castro promptly spat on the invitation, telling a meeting in Havana:

"We will be friends of the Soviet Union and the People's Republic of China... We are friends of those who are our friends... With the OAS or without the OAS, we will triumph."

Castro's new defiance was expected to bring a further hardening toward him at the meeting here.

ANTI-CASTRO STAND

In the conference's first working session on the Communist problem Tuesday, four of Cuba's Latin American neighbors took stands in which Castro could find little solace.

A fifth, Venezuela, implied Castro should call free elections.

Colombian Foreign Minister Julio Turbay Ayala, summarizing non-Cuban thinking at the conference, said his government "hopes that Cuba will reaffirm the principles on which the regional system is founded, abandoning every intention that might compromise hemispheric security and American unity."

He called on Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa to contradict reports that the Castro regime seeks to instigate a Latin American mutiny against the United States, to instigate revolutions in Latin America and to weaken hemisphere solidarity.

CASTRO MOCKS OAS

To a cheering throng of women's organizations jammed into the Workers' Palace in Havana, Castro depicted his regime as "the most firm government of all America." Castro mocked the OAS and lashed out at the United States during a two-hour post-midnight speech.

Russia and Red China, he asserted, "have shown they are our friends."

"They do not come to talk to us in the insolent language of proconsuls accustomed to give orders. We are friends of those who are our friends."

The women cheered, cheered and chanted their approval as Castro shouted and waved with all his old vigor.

'HELP CUBA, WE WON'T HELP YOU'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted today to shut off all foreign aid money to any country which provides military arms or economic assistance to Cuba. It adopted the proposal, made by Senator Styles Bridges (Rep.—N.H.), as an amendment to a pending $3,989,054,000 foreign aid money bill.

Under the amendment, funds would be withheld from any country which, in the president's judgment, "directly or indirectly is selling arms, munitions or implements of war, to the Castro regime in Cuba, or directly or indirectly is giving or loaning military or economic aid to that regime."

Doctrine Still Good

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower said today that when the chips are down, the U.S. would invoke the Monroe Doctrine and take action against any foreign domination in Latin America.

The president did not spell out what precise situation would bring direct action by the United States nor what type of action might be taken.

He told his news conference although the United States is operating through an international group—the Organization of American States (OAS)—in Latin America, this does not mean this country would not take action in its own interest if necessary.

Armed Forces Standing By?

HAVANA (AP)—The semi-official newspaper Revolution declared today the U.S. government has ordered all its military forces in the Caribbean to be ready to carry out "whatever intervention" the Organization of American States orders against Cuba.

It said U.S. parachute troops and air force units are assembled within a short distance of the Caribbean and transports loaded with marines are standing by at the Puerto Rican island of Vieques under the guise of manoeuvres.

Revolution told its readers President Eisenhower had ordered an increase in military preparations to combat communism in the Caribbean.

Congo Cuts Imports

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—The Congo government cut its imports by nearly half Tuesday as this troubled nation fought against economic stagnation as well as political chaos. The government banned the import of heavy machinery, textiles and luxury foods to save dwindling foreign reserves.

POPE SEES OLYMPIC ATHLETES

'May Best Man Win'

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John today told nearly 4,000 Olympic athletes from 70 nations "may the best man win."

He received the athletes and organizers of the 17th Olympic Games and thousands of others in a great outdoor audience, the first he has ever given in St. Peter's Square.

Athletes from Soviet Russia and Poland, Roman Catholics, Protestants, Jews, Moslems and representatives of the races of the world were in the audience.

"It is obvious," said the Pope, "that we cannot wish victory to every team or to each individual athlete: 'May the best man win.' But this is no obstacle to our expressing the very strong desire that the contests of these days will benefit you all, and that from them, all without exception will be able to gain some advantage."

Soviet Bids for Games

ROME (AP)—Nikolai Romanov, chief of the Soviet Olympic team, disclosed today that Russia will ask that the 1968 Olympic Games be held in Moscow.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—The central Congolese government poured more than 1,000 troops into Kasai Province today to put down a secessionist movement and end bloody tribal warfare that has claimed "thousands" of lives.

Kalonji declared the mining state independent of the rest of the Congo, announced he was its new president and allied himself with president-premier Moise Tshombe of the secessionist Katanga province.

Kalonji claimed in the Katanga capital of Elisabethville today that 300 warriors have died in fighting between the Lulua and Baluba tribes around Lulubourg since Tuesday.

He added that "thousands" have been killed in bitter fighting since the Congo won its independence June 30.

Such warfare between the two primitive tribes has gone on for years, but it flared into new intensity with independence.

It was not immediately known here if Lumumba's heavily-armed troops, flown in to help the Lulus overthrow the Baluba state, were involved in the fresh Lulubourg fighting.

Kalonji said he set up the state as a "haven" for Balubas who, he claimed, were being massacred by the Lulus.

He said a force of 250 police and 200 former Congolese army troops were guarding his state and "capital" of Bakwanga, some 125 miles south-east of Lulubourg.

He claimed if Lumumba's troops attacked his army, Tshombe's Katanga soldiers would come to his aid. Kalonji said two Baluba leaders have left for London and the United States to recruit a "foreign legion to fight Lumumba."

FINLAYSON RAPS SOCRE D SPENDING

'Brain-Washing Campaign'

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP)—B.C. Progressive Conservative leader Deane Finlayson said Tuesday night the Social

Credit party has launched a $2,000,000 "brain-washing campaign" to convince voters it has provided the best government the province ever had.

"They are spending $50,000 a day," he told a meeting here. "It's going to cost them $2,000,000 by Sept. 12."

Mr. Finlayson, off on a flying tour of the province, said the Pacific Northern Railway is a "figment of the imagination" which would be funny if it were not for the fact that it has attracted unemployed persons to jobs which don't exist.

He said the premier gathered together a "scratch team" of friends to set up a development company for the PNR. "Then they had the callousness and inhuman temerity to go through with a start on construction with no intention of carrying it out," he said.

Mr. Finlayson said his party, if returned to power, would relieve Swedish financier Alex Wenner-Gren of his interests in development of the Peace River, and substitute public development.

McCorquodale, 25, was found guilty of the murder of Lynne Lefurgey, 10, in the basement of a Calgary church last November. His death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment last week.

OTTAWA (CP)—The cabinet today gave orders to the National Parole Board never to release convicted murderer Ronald Harry McCorquodale of Calgary from custody.

McCorquodale, 25, was found guilty of the murder of Lynne Lefurgey, 10, in the basement of a Calgary church last November. His death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment last week.

Solicitor-General Leon Balcer, whose duties include reviewing all capital sentences before they are studied by cabinet, and who is also acting minister of justice in the holiday absence of E. Davie Fulton, said that McCorquodale is "insane" and will never recover.

Reprieved Slayer of Girl Will Never Be Released

Mr. Balcer made the announcement after this morning's cabinet meeting.

"The cabinet has instructed the parole board that this man should never be released from custody," he said.

MOTHER PROTESTED

The murdered girl's mother, Mrs. Muriel Lefurgey, protested Tuesday in Calgary against the commutation of McCorquodale's sentence to life imprisonment.

Mr. Balcer said the cabinet's order to the parole board was made after it had received the advice of Dr. J. P. S. Lefurgey, advised of the commutation of McCorquodale's who formerly advised the veterans affairs department. Since the Diefenbaker government took office in 1957, Mr. taxes.

Balcer said, Dr. Cathcart has examined all persons convicted of capital offences after their trials, whether or not they were suspected of insanity.

"Dr. Cathcart examined this accused and declared him insane and said that his mind is deteriorating and that he will never recover," Mr. Balcer said.

Commutation of a death penalty to life imprisonment usually means that the convict can be released from penitentiary for good behavior in as few as 10 years. Mrs. Lefurgey, advised of the commutation of McCorquodale's sentence, expressed shock at the decision and asked why she should support him with taxes.

BOY, 3, PULLED TRIGGER OF 'TOY'—MOTHER DIES

HAYWARD (UPI)—

Three-year old Michael Edwards crawled into bed with his mother Tuesday, found what he thought was a "toy pistol" under the pillow and playfully pulled the trigger.

His mother, Mrs. Betty Edwards, 25, died moments later from a bullet wound in the stomach.

The victim's husband, James, was at work when the accident happened. He told police he usually kept the revolver locked up, but had been keeping it under his pillow at night because of prowlers in the neighborhood recently.

Edwards said he overslept Tuesday and left for work without removing the gun from beneath the pillow. The couple had two other small boys.

LONDON—For the first time in history the Queen has awarded a British Empire Medal in honor of services to the tipping public.

Agnes Mawhinney, a spry 67, received her medal Tuesday beside the bar of the pub in which she has pulled pints for 14 years. She now is manager of the Crown, a pub at Wells in the north of England.

Agnes could have gone to Buckingham Palace to receive her award, but she chose to stay in her pub.

The Queen couldn't be there, but she sent Sir Fergus Graham, Lord Lieutenant of Cumberland, all decked out in his dress blue uniform. He read the citation:

"Miss Mawhinney has given a high standard of public service to the community."

Then he pinned the medal on the delighted lady.

"Hic, Hic, Hic," shouted the delighted townsfolk who gathered around the bar for the celebration. They had come early to get a head start.

Storer told the American ornithologists' union meeting here that birds are active in roughly the same hours as people and have comparable senses of sight and sound.

And he added, "they like to chatter."

'TIGGY' SWINGS A PICK

Aristocrat in Overalls

By ALVIN J. STEINKOFF

LONDON (AP)—An aristocrat in overalls swings a pick and shovels broken bricks on a demolition job near Piccadilly Circus.

He develops callouses five days a week, knocking down an old building along with a lot of Cockney mates. Then at weekends he retires to his family's stately home near King's Lynn and gives orders to the butler.

He is 24-year-old Charles "Tiggy" Birbeck, nephew of the Earl of Munster. His mother is Lady Joan Mary, sister of the earl.

Tiggy, educated at Gordonstoun, Prince Philip's old school, might have found polite occupation in the financial district, but he chose the overalls and the shovel to get down to something essential.

But the real reason I took the job is that I was flat broke, said Tiggy.

Mr. Bennett says B.C. will start pressing again for construction of the "western route", Pine Point railroad, which would link directly the mineral, lumber and agricultural output of the Northwest Territories with Vancouver.

He said here Tuesday night B.C. had won the first round when a commission majority recommended the route via Edmonton, Alta., and eventually to Vancouver rather than Edmonton.

"We have given the federal government time to make a decision," he told 500 persons attending a party, election rally. "Now we are going to route."

It's time a start was made on this Pine Point railroad.

EIGHT NEW MEMBERS ADMITTED

African Bloc Grows In United Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Eight formerly French-ruled African nations were approved by the Security Council Tuesday for UN membership.

They are Dahomey, Niger, Upper Volta, Ivory Coast, Republic of Congo, Chad, Gabon and the Central African Republic.

These and others will make up a 23-nation African bloc, the largest continental representation in the UN.

The next step for them is pending candidate nations' formal induction in the General Assembly opening Sept. 20 with the present 82-member nations on hand.

Six countries already approved by the council to be admitted in the upcoming assembly are Cameroon, Togo and the Mali federation of Senegal and the French Sudan and Madagascar.

Madagascar, all former French colonies, Somalia, Comoros, former Italian and British Somaliland, and the former Belgian Congo.

The island republic of Cyprus, formerly British-ruled, will be approved by the council today.

All African countries except Liberia and Tunisia call themselves neutralists—as does Yugoslavia.

The neutral camp also includes Middle Eastern countries and Sweden, Ireland, Israel, Finland, Austria, India, Indonesia, Cambodia, Nepal, Laos, Malaya, Burma and Ceylon.

Summer Again In Near Future, Says Forecaster

Sunshine lurking above the overcast which covered Victoria for most of today is scheduled to make an appearance this evening, according to the weatherman.

Forecast calls for a few sunny periods this evening and partly cloudy skies overnight.

Thursday promises to be a little better, with "frequent" sunny periods, but temperatures will remain in the chilly (for summer) range of from 50 degrees tonight to a maximum of 63 degrees Thursday.

Winds will be light for most of the day, but will reach 15 miles per hour from the southwest Thursday afternoon.

Although the present weather is more like November than August, the weatherman expects a return of summer within a few days.

The paintings included A Judgment of Paris by the Flemish master Rubens, insured for $100,000; Two Lovers on a Park Bench by French Impressionist Pierre-Auguste Renoir; Portrait of an Old Lady by Dutch master Gerard Terbosch; and Woman's portrait by Johannes Cornelis Verspronck.

Peking Opera 'More Than Choral'

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today no protest has been filed with the director of the Peking Opera now touring Canada, although some of his statements have been more than a choral contribution to culture.

Mr. Diefenbaker was questioned by reporters after a morning cabinet meeting about statements made in Edmonton by opera director Chen Chung Chin, who said it is only a question of time before Communist China "liberates" Formosa by force or peaceful methods.

Ambassador Liu Chieh, representing the Nationalist government of China in Formosa, said the opera was spreading propaganda under the guise of a cultural visit to Canada.

"I have some knowledge of what he (the director) has in mind," Mr. Diefenbaker said, "and it would seem to be not altogether a choral contribution."

BENNETT FIRST LADY ASTRONAUT READY

She Wants to Be Shot in Space

NEW YORK (UPI)—Geraldine Cobbs, 24, the first successful candidate for Lady Astronaut, is looking forward to being shot into space.

The tall, slim blonde from Oklahoma City told in an interview Tuesday how it felt to be the first woman to pass the same grueling tests given seven male astronauts now being prepared for space flight under Project Mercury.

Miss Cobb said she expected a woman to follow the first astronaut probably as a crew member in a space vehicle. She says she will enter a government-sponsored training program with a number of other women to be chosen this fall.

A veteran pilot, who was taught to fly when she was 12 by her former air force lieutenant colonel father, Miss Cobb, sees nothing extraordinary in women preparing for space travel.

"After all, it is obvious that women will fly in space, certainly as passengers and probably as pilots," she said.

"Why does she want to be an astronaut?"

JERRIE COBB... adventure

"Why I think it would be the greatest adventure a pilot, no, a person, could ever experience," she said. "I can't imagine anyone not wanting to go into space."

As far as I'm concerned I'll be there. I don't know when but I just know I'll be there."

Miss Cobb underwent the astronaut tests at the Lovelace Foundation in Albuquerque, N.M. She said 11 other women were being selected for the same experiments and that from the dozen will come the first astronaut. So far the female program is not officially sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) or any other agency.

Miss Cobb, U.S. aviation's woman pilot of 1959, already has logged 7,500 flying hours, established three two-engine records and broken the sound barrier.

She said she had lost seven of her 121 pounds during the tests, but regained them later.

She has blue eyes, is five feet seven, and her other statistics are 36-26-34.

New Natural Gas Project To Provide Jobs for 2,000

First leg of a five-stage $255,000,000 natural gas project, which will start in northern B.C. next month, is expected to provide 2,000 jobs.

Gas Trunk Line of B.C. Ltd. announced Tuesday construction will start early in September on a $93,000,000 pipeline 245 miles from Fort Nelson to the Dawson Creek area, where it will join Westcoast Trans-Alberta's pipeline.

"In the next year the program will result in the expenditure of some $225,000,000 in the province and will provide jobs for at least 2,000 persons," says a company statement.

Four other stages are:

New compressor stations along the Westcoast line, $25,000,000; the Alberta Natural Gas Co. pipeline, $10,000,000; of which Westcoast has a major share; $15,000,000 drilling and exploration program; a Kootenay district gas distribution system, $15,000,000; an oil pipeline to be built by Trans-Alberta Pipelines in the Peace River country, $3,000,000.

Initial capacity of the new trunk will be 350,000,000 cubic feet, to be completed this year. Additional compression could boost the total to 650,000,000 cubic feet.

The Westcoast line which it will join now serves the lower mainland area of B.C. with surplus gas going to El Paso Natural Gas Co. for use in the U.S.

The present flow through Westcoast facilities now is more than 300,000,000 cubic feet daily. Two additional compressor stations costing $25,000,000 will be built within a parallel the Alaska Highway year to raise the capacity to 660,000,000 cubic feet a day.

Gas Trunk Line of B.C. is owned by producing companies active in the Fort Nelson area and is sponsored by Pacific Petroleum Ltd.

The first phase of construction of natural gas a day. At a cost of about $11,000,000, it will comprise a series of extension pipelines at the southern end of the route and will eventually form part of the gathering system. Laying of pipe on the main trunk line system will start next spring.

At its peak, the job is expected to employ 1,200 men.

'IN PUBLIC INTEREST'

Ghana Adopts Press Censorship

ACCRA (Reuters)—A new law empowers President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana to impose press censorship and restrict the import of publications "contrary to public interest."

The government bill was introduced in Parliament Tuesday and passed the same day. It amends a section of the criminal code to enable Nkrumah to require newspapers and other publications "which had been indulging in systematic publication of matter calculated to prejudice public order or safety" to be submitted to scrutiny before publication.

Mutiny Among Mali Troops Of UN Denied

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Belgian paratroopers today were reported to have restored order in Albertville, in northern Katanga province, after a demonstration by supporters of Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba set off fighting.

Gen. Emile Gheysen, commander of Belgian troops still in Katanga, after a visit to Albertville, denied earlier reports that the fighting resulted from a mutiny among United Nations troops from the Mali Federation.

"In fact, the Mali troops behaved quite well," Gheysen said on his arrival here.

Apparently the fighting was between Balubakat tribesmen favorable to Lumumba's central Congo government and security forces of the Katanga provincial government, which has proclaimed its independence from Lumumba.

The Mali troops, according to Gheysen, were innocent bystanders who got mixed up in the melee.

OPPOSITION MEMBERS ARRESTED

ACCRA (Reuters)—Two prominent members of the opposition United party were arrested under Ghana's Preventive Detention Act late Tuesday night, the Ghana news agency reported today from Kumasi, central Ghana.

They were Osie Baidoo, assistant general secretary of the party and B. D. Adlai, Kumasi chairman of the party. A third person was detained at the same time.

Under the Preventive Detention Act, police can detain a person for up to five years without trial. About 80 persons are at present under detention, mostly for political reasons.

There was no immediate indication of the reason for the latest detentions.

'Peace Force' Says Bunche

LONDON (Reuters)—Major Gen. Henry Alexander, British commander of Ghana's defence force, said Tuesday he has "better things to do" than to read United Nations envoy Ralph Bunche's criticism of his views.

Alexander, who arrived by air from New York, repeated his conviction that the UN force in the Congo is in "an impossible position" because it has not received clear, concrete orders.

Bunche, the world organization's representative in the Congo, said Alexander's criticism was not valid because the UN army is a "peace force" not a fighting force.

TRADE MINISTER'S MONTHLY REPORT

B.C. Economic Year 'Good,' But...

Trade Minister R. W. Bonner said Tuesday business and industry in B.C. is having a "good year," although he admitted there is "some feeling he said reviewing progress of the provincial economy could be more buoyant."

The report claims a 14 per cent boost in coal production, although it is down on Vancouver Island. Natural gas production is up 20 per cent. Value of factory shipments 3 per cent. Value of cheques cashed up 4.8 per cent. Although this figure is for only four months. It says labor income is up 5 per cent, but gives no figure.

$1 Billion More Investment Expected Here by Year's End

By FRANK PUTTER
The B.C. trade department is evidently counting on another $1 billion of capital investment this year.

With seven months gone by, investment totals "about one third of a billion dollars" according to the business activity report of the department.

But it then predicts a total for the year of $1.3 billion. It doesn't say exactly where the billion is coming from.

However, it must be counting either on the "millions" from Britain promised by Premier Bennett after his tour in May and June, or some huge power developments.

"The imminent prospect of early development of one or more major power projects may provide the psychological stimulus," says the report.

For a year's end or early spring boost in economic activity. "One or more" is either the Peace or Columbia hydro development.

The government currently is awaiting applications of the Peace River Power Development Co. for a Public Utilities Commission certificate and a water licence.

SAANICH BOYS PRAISED FOR SPEEDY FIRST AID

Speedy action by two Saanich Army Cadets in rendering first aid to victims of a head-on car collision in Vernon Monday has been praised by Vernon RCMP.

Cadets were Frank Burton, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Burton, 595 Grange Road, and Michael Herriott, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Herriott, 4158 Wilkinson Road. The boys, who attend Colquitz Junior High School, are due back from Vernon army camp Friday after a seven-week course with the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers. They learned first aid in an army course.

On the other hand, the report notes a 27 decline in retail sales. And while it says there is a 7.1 per cent increase in passenger-car registrations, other figures from the Motor Vehicle Branch recently showed a decline of about 11 per cent in new car registrations. There's also a sharp rise in unemployment.

Mr. Bonner's report also says capital investment is showing a 7 per cent increase over last year. It should be the third best year in B.C.'s history with a total investment of $1.3 billion.

The report shows that the actual cost of living—the consumer price index—is very slightly down: It's 127.5 instead of 127.6 as it was in June. Last year it was 125.9.

But the big jump is in the wholesale price index, up 6 to 231.9 for July, and up 1.3 from July of 1959.

Figures for the number of unemployed applicants for jobs in B.C. show a total of 49,191 job-hunters at the end of June.

In 1959 at the same time, the total was 36,307. However, there was a decline in unemployed from May, when the total was 58,562.

147 JAILED FROM SEIZED SPY LISTS

BERLIN (Reuters)—East Germany claimed today that it had arrested 147 Western spies as the result of the seizure of lists it obtained "from United States offices in West Berlin and Western Germany."

An American spokesman immediately denied the charges and said there was "absolutely no truth whatever" in allegations that "people have been in American pay or lists of people have come into East German possession."

U.K. Seamen Get Suspended Terms

MONTREAL (UPI)—Thirty-seven British seamen who staged an unsuccessful sit-down strike aboard the Canadian Pacific freighter Beaverlove returned to work today after a court gave them a suspended sentence for disobeying their captain.

Insurance, Not Dole

IN UNEMPLOYMENT THE Canadian Government faces a general problem which can be stalled off for the time being with generalities, optimistic predictions and vague hopes. But in the depletion of the unemployment insurance fund the Government faces an immediate, specific problem which must be met without delay.

In a few years at most the fund will be exhausted if it continues to decline at its present rate. That decline must be arrested somehow.

The best solution, of course, would be a reduction in unemployment and the drain on the fund. Having withheld the latest, alarming figures until the last hour of Parliament's session, when they could not be debated, the Government evidently is meditating a new attack on unemployment and its conclusions will be awaited with interest. It will not be safe, however, under the best of conditions, to assume that the fund will soon begin to grow again.

It must be repaired by an injection of new money. The practical question is where the money shall come from.

Unemployment insurance was established as insurance, not as a state benefit or dole. It is financed not by the taxpayer but by regular contributions from employers and employees. The beneficiaries are those who have paid for insurance against unemployment, as they would pay for life, fire or other insurance.

The system should be maintained as insurance and if it is becoming actuarially unsound it should be repaired by larger contributions from its present contributors. Such an increase would require high courage in the Government for it would be politically unpopular. We shall see whether the Government possesses that kind of courage.

The alternative is to fatten the fund out of the federal treasury, that is to say the purse of the taxpayers at large. The Government has no revenue for this purpose and therefore would have to borrow the necessary money, adding heavily to the national debt, to interest costs and to pressure on the bond market—the very pressure which the Government is trying desperately to relieve.

A decision between these alternatives must be made in the near future. Another decision apparently has been made already.

The officials administering unemployment insurance are moving, very late, to cure the many abuses of the system, to detect the chiselers who are defrauding not the state, as they may imagine, but their fellow contributors to the fund.

There can be no doubt that these abuses have been widespread and costly. They were probably encouraged by the buoyant revenues of the insurance fund during years of high prosperity and low unemployment. Only now, when the fund is going broke rapidly, are real efforts being made to protect it from fraud.

The horse was a long way down the road before the barn door was locked, if it is actually locked now.

The problem of the fund is only the reflection of the larger problem, which is not business recession—but pockets of unemployment in some areas despite general prosperity.

Apart from foreign dangers, unemployment unquestionably is the number one political issue in Canada today. Very likely the Diefenbaker Government will stand or fall on it. Hence its present deliberations on new unemployment policies will show whether the Government's life is likely to be long or short.

Whatever else it may decide to do, the Government cannot even touch the unemployment problem merely by plowing the taxpayer's money into unemployment insurance, destroying it as an insurance system and making it a disguised state dole. If that happens, there will be no end to the demands on the fund when everybody expects somebody else to provide the money.

A Job Well Done

ALTHOUGH CONDITIONS IN The Congo continue turbulent and occasionally violent, the position of the United Nations appears to be progressively stronger and there can be little doubt that the world organization is achieving marked success in establishing itself as a recognized authority in preserving the peace.

The withdrawal of Premier Lumumba's opposition to U.N. participation and his apologies for attacks on Canadian and other U.N. troops, seem attributable to two developments. One is the obvious weight of world opinion in favor of United Nations action, particularly as expressed by such countries as India and many African states. The other is the superb job of personal diplomacy that is being performed by U.N.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld. With infinite patience and tact, working always well within the powers conferred on him by the Security Council, he has guided the temperamental and changeable Premier Lumumba towards the proper path and greatly enhanced the prestige and the usefulness of the United Nations.

There are difficult problems still to be surmounted before The Congo situation can be straightened out and the country re-directed on its path of independence. But sufficient has been accomplished to prove that the United Nations can be an effective and invaluable means of preserving peace and security when its members will give it the necessary support. That fact shines as one of the few bright objects in the cloudy diplomatic world today.

'Wonderful Guy' of the Lyrics

THE GAY WORLD OF MUSICAL comedy and popular song has lost a major figure in the death of Oscar Hammerstein, half of the famous partnership which created such successes as "Oklahoma" and "South Pacific".

Mr. Hammerstein, lyricist for outstanding popular composers of the last two generations, has left the world brighter for his work.

A sentimentalist in his rhyming lines, he caught the play of wind on a field of wheat, the imaginative wonder of islands rising from a tropic sea, the shining simplicity of young romance.

He saw the gold of sunrise, the glory of sunset and silver linings in a cloud. The days of our years are happier because he walked through them.

A Little More Cosmopolitan

VICTORIA'S STUDENT-TOUR-ists are back from their seven-week trip to Europe and reports indicate that the venture was a success.

The party, according to its director, created a favorable impression in the cities and countries it visited and paved the way for a ready welcome to the next of its kind.

In concept and execution the tour seems to have been excellent. Participants were encouraged, if not required, to save enough of their own money to pay a large share of the costs. They banked returns from jobs done before the trip and learned a desirable frugality in the process. Beyond that, they have seen how other people live, have been introduced at first hand to sights and events they had previously known only through reading, television or other media, and they should be a little more cosmopolitan for the experience.

Here is a first-class venture in education which seems to have paid good dividends. If they have succeeded in giving residents of distant towns and cities a better appreciation of young Canadians, that is a bonus for which this country should be grateful.

Just Look at the Bills

MR. LESLIE PETERSON SAYS that British Columbia school taxes have increased 39 per cent over the last 10 years but home owners are paying $24 a year less than they were 10 years ago because of help received from the provincial government's $50-a-year grant. As far as Greater Victoria home owners are concerned, they have one simple method of judging the statement: Let them look at the municipal tax bills they are now receiving or will receive, shortly.

AS TOLD BY JOSEPH DOAKES

By B. A. TOBIN

Urgent Warning: Go Quickly to Shelters

SOMEWHAT torn and badly weathered, several pages resembling those from a school scribbler were found on southern Vancouver Island today by Relief Expedition 4B: Post-Radiation Control Division. The sheets of paper appear to be from a log book kept by one Joseph Doakes during the nuclear attack which opened World War III, circa 1960. Transcription experts are now trying to determine just what significance the account may have. So far, they are baffled. —Excerpt from the Official Record, North American Archives, Western District, Subdistrict F.

Tobin

Monday, 8 a.m. Well, here we are, safe in our basement shelter, and boy, am I glad I followed the official advice and built it. In fact, I wish I built it bigger. There's I and Ruth and our three boys and two girls. Fred and his wife and two youngsters arrived from next door. They hadn't bothered to build a shelter, and of course we couldn't turn them away, although it meant doubling up. With only seven-by-ten feet, we were a little crowded.

Settled In

It was only about fifteen minutes after the radio warning when the first blast came. It must have been quite a distance away as the house didn't shake much. The power went off and we switched to the battery radio. There were several other shakings in the next couple of hours, and the radio said there was heavy fallout over the whole northwest. So we're sitting snug and waiting for the all-clear. We were all a little cramped after getting a few winks of sleep this morning, but hope it won't be long.

Monday, 10:15 a.m. — One of the four tins of water seems to have leaked away some time ago, as it's quite dry. Also I find that Ruth has been using the pork and beans, and the canned soup for regular family use, so there isn't much left. However, we have the flour, although it is a little damp, and the vitamin pills. The chocolate and dates in the survival kit are a little mouldy but still usable. Unfortunately Fred and his family didn't think to bring any food, so we're a little short-rationed.

Monday, 11:30 a.m. — The battery radio seems to be getting weaker so we're using it sparingly. The flashlights are also dimming so using only one at a time. Children beginning to get restless. Have had to speak sharply to Fred's boy. His wife a little hurt. But must maintain discipline.

Ordeal Continues

Monday, 12:45 p.m. — Kids more unruly and spanked two. Air getting stuffy. Fred and wife whispering in corner. Ruth divided up three cans anchovies, one powdered milk for lunch. Children complain still hungry.

Monday, 4:10 p.m. — Radio now dead. Appears Ruth forgot replace batteries after camping trip. Only room for two to lie down, three to sit. Rest must stand. Only one flash working, very dim. Fred's wife not speaking me, Ruth not speaking Fred, our kids speaking one Fred's but not other.

Monday, 7:30 p.m. — Four children crying, claim hungry. Two cans soup for supper turned out to be mushrooms. Fred, wife, don't like mushrooms. Said vitamin pills not working quite right. Monday, 9:55 p.m. — Air very stuffy, light dimmer. Ruth says you'd think person would check essentials beforehand. Drain seems worse.

Monday, 11:45 p.m. — Fred, wife say can't stand hours on end, will disregard sitting-sleeping schedule. Kids grow piled top each other but only whimpering instead of crying. Wish had made shelter bigger.

Tuesday, 4:10 a.m. — Sleep impossible since air too stuffy, can't stretch legs, at least two children always crying. One tin vitamins spilled, lost on floor in dark. Fred knocked over bag flour, spilling on sleepers.

To Endure

Tuesday, 6:45 a.m. — No one speaking others, so-called fairly quiet except for children crying. Seems heavy rain outside and slight leak through basement wall mixing with spilled flour. Only pencil flashlight left, which saying. Ruth, Fred's wife argued whether we been three days or four. Claimed my watch stopped.

Tuesday, 8:30 a.m. — Very difficult breathe. All children crying top voices. Fred slapped wife. His wife slapped me. Ate last can of soup, which again turned out mushrooms. Unable heat bacon since power off. Fred and family very bitter.

Tuesday, 4:20 p.m. — Have black eye, broken tooth, from fight with Fred. He has broken nose. Difficult fight in dark. All kids screaming, both wives yelling. Fred's wife says knows we been in here six days. Drain now completely unworking. Air filter partly plugged.

Tuesday, 7:15 p.m. — Can't find hard-tack reserve. Seems children used up playing house last month. Wives stopped yelling, but sobbing constantly.

Tuesday, 10:45 p.m. — Pencil flash can't last much longer. Inch of floury water on floor. Pitch dark. Kids screaming, Fred in corner shouting, periodically lashing out with feet. Wives still sobbing.

Tuesday, 11:30 p.m. — Banged thumb opening can. That does it. Shelter be damned. Radiation be damned. I'm getting out of here.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Active Peace

The current drive to encourage the public to construct individual fallout shelters seems to us a counsel of despair. Its result could be to make us accept the idea that war is inevitable, and to lull us into a false sense of security—that it wouldn't be so bad after all. Or its result could be to force us all into a reappraisal of our precarious position, to cause us to avert the final catastrophe and to take more positive action for peace.

A small group of people have adopted the theme, "Act for Peace." Some of the suggestions for such action are: A permanent end to nuclear testing. Canadian neutrality. More aid to less developed countries. Co-existence and trade with all nations.

Strengthening the United Nations. Scrapping H-bomb "deterrents". Complete disarmament, and more citizen responsibility for shaping our national policies.

We are convinced that there can be no security, no safety, no defence, except by making peace as ardently as we have made war in the past.

Grateful for Help

May I take this opportunity of using your columns to express our appreciation to the citizens of Greater Victoria who contributed to the Greater Victoria Association for Retarded Children through the Tag Day held last Aug. 6.

Our particular thanks go to the members of City Council who authorized the Tag Day and the United Commercial Travellers of America Council 134 of Victoria who, through the efforts of their members under the leadership of Mr. Harry Wood, organized the Tag Day. Our sincerest gratitude is also extended to those who turned out to assist with the tagging.

The GVARC has no permanent source of income and depends entirely upon voluntary contributions to continue its work of catering to the needs of both pre-school and post-schoolage mental retardates in the Greater Victoria area. Since the GVARC will be embarking upon a new program in the fall, the contributions will be put to almost immediate use.

Any inquiries or requests for help are always most welcome and should be addressed to 1450 Elford St., Victoria, B.C.

President GVARC.

What an Attitude

I have been pondering over that item re the sailing of the giant liner Queen Mary having to be cancelled due to striking seamen in a demand for another increase, $11 or so per month, refusing a $7 increase which the union urged its members to accept.

What remedy can employers use, when according to one of the Southampton strikers' statement, "If we can hold the Queen Mary it is a symbol of our strength." What an attitude to adopt, which to me already indicates "weakness" the antithesis of strength.

Guess some of us do not know when we are well off and a real shock awaits those who are still dreaming.

Statistics And Truth

By JOSEPH ALSOP

IN THE newspaper trade it is usually considered bad form for one writer to scribble to make remarks in print about the work of another. Yet an exception seems to be justified in the case of the pollster.

Dr. George Gallup's important first poll after the national conventions. What is left out needs to be put back in. The political community was both excited and amazed by this poll, showing 50 per cent of the "decided" voters choosing Vice President Richard M. Nixon, 44 per cent of the "decided" voters choosing Sen. John F. Kennedy, and 6 per cent of the pollsters undecided. Nixon's lead caused the excitement. The almost incredibly low percentage of undecided voters caused the amazement.

But the voters as positively described as "decided" by Dr. Gallup were by no means unanimously decided in the true sense of that word.

Undecided Voters

In the total sample, 6 per cent of the pollsters specifically stated they were undecided about their votes, but later admitted or indicated that they were leaning to one candidate or another. These "leaners" a familiar phenomenon to every dog-eared finger, were somewhat oddly lumped in with the truly "decided" in the published poll.

According to Paul Perry, chief statistician of the Gallup organization, this undisclosed disposition of the "leaners" benefited the Democrats. He said that the Kennedy-Johnson ticket got "approximately 40 per cent of all the ballots."

The "leaners" then conspicuously failed to benefit, however, by two other unseen dispositions made by Dr. Gallup and his staff. The first and most remarkable was the simple cancellation of about 20 per cent of all the ballots collected by Dr. Gallup's field workers.

Apparently this winnowing of ballots from sheep is standard Gallup practice. Suspected non-voters are spotted by such indicators as failure to vote last time, failure to register thus far, and so on.

The suspect's ballots are then thrown out of the sample, which is the other half of the secret of Dr. Gallup's amazingly low percentage of undecided voters.

Statistician Perry stated that he "did not" throw out the actual split of the suspects' votes out of the recently published poll, but he added that the discarded ballots were "regularly more Democratic." In addition, important numbers of Democratic votes were apparently light-weighted by Dr. Gallup's special system of synthesizing his national percentage figures.

Like the throw-out of suspected non-voters, this synthetic character of Dr. Gallup's published national percentages may well be known to sociologists and other students. Statistician Perry made no bones about it, when questioned. But it is certainly unknown in the political community, where the Gallup results are therefore misunderstood.

Four Regions

Briefly, then, every Gallup Poll is divided into four regions: eastern, mid-western, southern, and western. Voting habits in the regions differ. The aim is to forecast, not the victor in the election, but the popular vote.

Thus the polling samples from each region are given a "weight," proportional to that region's contribution to the popular vote in 1956. The national averages are then synthesized from the weighted samples.

The region that suffers from this system is the south, where the popular vote is always low in national elections. The 13 states in Dr. Gallup's southern region have just under a quarter of the population of the United States. More important, they have 22 per cent of the Electoral College votes, which decide the presidential choice.

But in Dr. Gallup's percentage synthesis, the 1956 yardstick gave the south a "weight" of only 16.6 per cent. Thus every southerner in Dr. Gallup's recent sample got only about three-fifths of a vote in the final count.

Although Dr. Gallup secretly publishes regional breakdowns, he is not doing so this time. Hence statistician Perry refuses to disclose the split of the latest southern sample.

Doing Better

Rather hesitantly, he merely said that the Republicans were doing better in the south than they have done in the past. Except in 1928, 1952 and 1956, when the vote was only one year when the Republicans got to first base in the south.

It seems likely, therefore, that the Gallup sample from the southern region showed a small but significant Democratic majority, which was then downgraded by the "weighting" system. Add the probable Democratic majority among the thrown-out ballots of suspected non-voters.

It then seems a fair bet that the Democrats actually had a modest overall majority in Dr. Gallup's unprocessed ballots.

A handful of voters would produce such a majority, because of the narrow base of Dr. Gallup's famous percentages. In the last poll, the nationwide sample was about 1,100 ballots. About 20 per cent were thrown out, and the final sample was under 1,000 ballots.

Single Gallup percentage-point have made their way, therefore, represent not more than last whisky, E. D. 13 votes. And the mere transfer of 11 m. 39 votes either way would have altered the Dr. Gallup's nationwide percentages, to firm will go out of show Kennedy running dead even with Nixon, or to show Nixon leading Kennedy, 53-41.

It was the latest development in a 2½-month long investigation by RCMP officers into the ring of counterfeiters operating in the Montreal area.

Youth Given Probation For Theft

A 19-year-old who broke into a house, stole $7 in quarters from a piggy bank and tossed $10 worth of underthings into the Gorge was put on a year's probation in Saanich police court Tuesday.

Harold Preston, also known as Marcus, of 207 Maddock, pleaded guilty to breaking entering and theft at the home of Mrs. Barbara Raymond, 236 Maddock, at 2 a.m. August 14.

Gaining access by way of a basement door, he ransacked the house, court was told.

The underclothes were put in a tin box and tossed into Gorge waters. They were not recovered, although the money was.

Deputy Magistrate J. A. Byers noted a recommendation for psychiatric treatment in an otherwise good probation report.

He stipulated the boy must have no liquor, obey instructions of the probation officer and take psychiatric treatment if required. Meanwhile he would post a $250 bond to be of good behavior while sentence is suspended.

SOLUTION FRIDAY

Andy

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive merchandise prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, and of the second question a Hamard Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Brian Bridson, age 10, of Lansing, Mich., for his question:

What is the Xylem of a Tree Trunk?

Xylem is a word which was coined from an older Greek word for wood. The xylem cells in a tree trunk come in different sizes and some have thicker walls than others. If we look closely we see that the associated structures are arranged in order. A cross section of the trunk shows that they are arranged in lines, grooves and sometimes spirals, one inside another. The whorls. These patterns are called the grain of the wood and darker wood. They form and fine furniture wood is the tree rings by which we can tell the age of a tree.

In a normal year, a tree adds a new circle of xylem cells clear around its trunk. Growth begins in the spring when water and sunshine are plentiful. The tree takes in plenty of nourishment and this is used to grow xylem cells at a great rate. Growth takes place in a layer of cells called the cambium, just under the bark. The cambium cells grow new xylem cells on the inside and the wood of a tree trunk are called xylem cells. This word of the trunk.

Growth Slows After Rains

The xylem cells which grow in the spring are large and thin-walled. These new cells help the tree absorb water down the tree. When spring is ended they have formed a new ribbon of cells clear around the tree trunk. They will continue to add to their numbers throughout the summer. But growth slows down after the spring rains are over. The xylem cells which form later are smaller and they have thicker walls.

All xylem cells have sturdy woody walls. But those that grow later in the year are the sturdiest. The ribbon of spring cells tends to be softer than

HORACE STONEHAM $20 all you get.

NEW YORK. Given any big tips lately?

Horace Stoneham, the well-heeled owner of the San Francisco Giants, serves to have a word spoken about him now and then what with all his baseball troubles, and that reminds me of a true story told to me by a cab driver.

"I used to play Toots Shor's all this time and I never had Stoneham in my cab, though he was in Shor's all the time," the cab driver said.

"One night, the doorman told me Stoneham was coming out and you got him."

"All the drivers knew his reputation for being generous and it was finally my turn."

THOUGHT FAST

He was with another man and wanted to make one stop before going home. The other man spoke up when we got to the first stop that he would pay the check.

"I had to think fast. The other guy might be a nothin' tapper, a real stiff," I said to the man. "Oh, Mr. Stoneham's a famous host. I'm sure he wouldn't want his guest paying the cab fare."

The other fellow decided to go along the rest of the way. When we got to the last stop, again the same guy wanted to take care of the cab. And again I had to speak up about Mr. Stoneham's reputation for being a thorough host.

"The fare was under $2."

DIDN'T FLINCH

"Stoneham looked up at me and he said like he knew me. How much did I give you last time?"

"Now I'd never had him before, but I thought fast and I said, 'Twenty-five.'"

"He didn't flinch. He got out three $10 bills. He says, 'You got change?'"

"I had a pretty good night and had a roll of bills in my pocket. I started getting them out and he said, 'Hey, you're richer than I am. Twenty is all you get.'"

"And he gave the other $10 bill to the doorman for opening the cab door for him."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Dick Clark's chewing gum sponsor's deciding whether to renew his ABC-TVer... Walter Szekall co-star with Gina Lollobrigida and Rock Hudson in a film in Italy... Eydie Gorme and Steve Lawrence are looking for a B-way show in which to co-star... Singer Polly Bergen's dress business may hit a first-year gross of $5,000,000... Jack Carter'll follow his "Mr. Wonderful" co-star, Sammy Davis Jr., into London's Pigatto Club.

John Wayne arrives here next week enroute to Africa to film "The African Story." Paramount's been training a baby elephant, who'll appear in the picture since April.

Clark Gable and Marilyn Monroe are filming love scenes for "The Misfits" in 105-degree heat in the Nevada desert.

Yoko Tami, of the "Savage Innocents" film, will be boomed by H. Wood as "the Eskimo Brigitte Bardot."

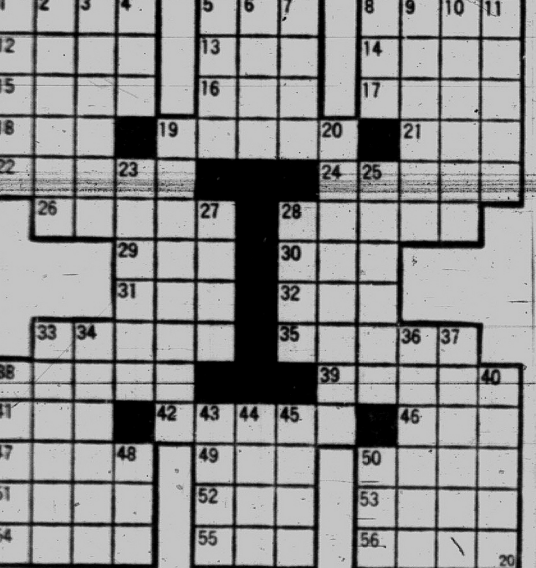

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH

A boy used to say no to everything his parents suggested, so they sent him to a progressive school. Now he says no in French.

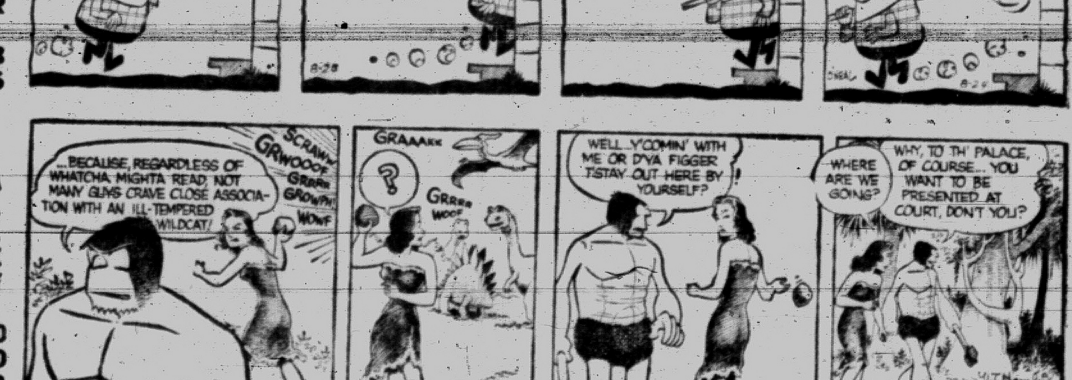

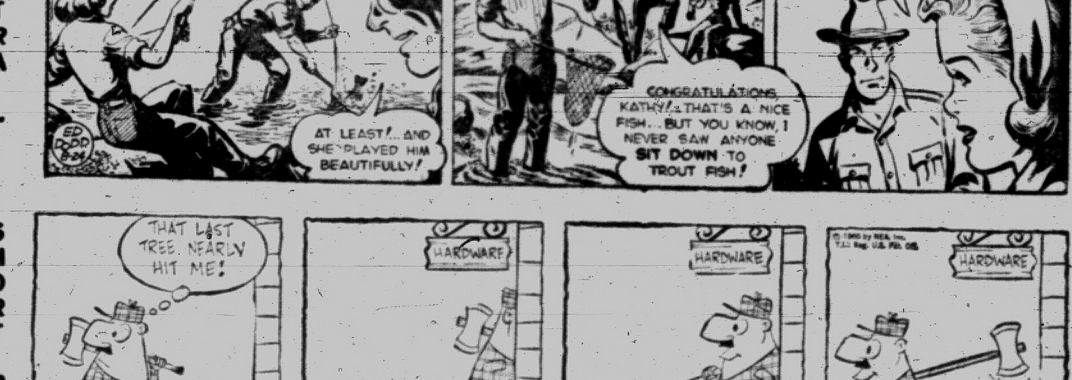

WISH I'D SAID THAT: If we could make people believe that driving fast was hard work, that would slow 'em down—L. S. McCandless.

Management, Labor Must Unite To Solve Shipbuilding Problems

Times Business Editor Hal Malone is on holiday. In his absence a representative group of Victoria business men have consented to write columns. Today's guest, Mr. John Wallace, describes the shipbuilding industry in B.C. its problems and its future.

By JOHN WALLACE

While the opportunity to guest column is much appreciated, the following observations are of a personal nature and do not necessarily reflect the thinking of the shipbuilding industry in B.C.

During the past two years considerable public attention has been drawn to the increasing difficulties of the west coast shipbuilding and ship repairing industry.

Recognizing the importance of the industry to our local and provincial economies and to national defence, various public officials and responsible groups have petitioned the federal government to make every effort to help alleviate this growing and serious problem.

In spite of these worthwhile efforts, and those of the industry itself, the total work force employed in the three major shipyards in B.C. has declined from 2300 employees in January of this year to approximately 1200 at the present time.

(In Victoria, there are less than 700 shipyard workers currently employed). Unfortunately, there is no new work on the horizon which will improve these employment figures.

Unless very minimal emergency repairs are made in our yards offset the 15 per cent lower ship construction costs of our eastern Canadian competitors. It is our hope the federal government will soon define a shipbuilding policy which will be fair to all areas of the country, will provide an incentive to the Canadian shipowner to build in Canada and will guarantee an adequate base for our national security.

For several years the shipbuilding industry in B.C. has been taking a hard look at itself. We have endeavored to broaden the base of our operations. We have poured capital into new plants to develop industrial and steel fabrication divisions.

We have pioneered in improving coastal transportation with new-type ferries, self-loading steel barges for the lumber industry, new-type steel fishboats, etc. In addition we have expanded our facilities, at considerable capital cost, to secure new work on super tankers.

Our sources of work include deep-sea ship construction and repair, coastal ship construction and repair, government and naval construction and repair. We are non-competitive in deep-sea construction (Canada has no deep-sea merchant marine) and because of depressed charter conditions confidence pushed many lead ship shares higher on the stock market today.

Gains were widespread among industrials and gilt-edged securities were quietly being quoted at 120.

Copper joined cars and steel as the New York market continued to rally. Trading was active.

Airports and rails took losses.

AT TORONTO — In mines, McInyre Porcupine was ahead, at 25 1/2, and Geo and Ventures each gained 1/4 at 18 1/2 and 62 1/2.

Western oils continued strong. Home A gained 25 cents at $8, Home B 20 cents at $8.35 and Pacific Pete 1/4 at 15 1/2.

AT NEW YORK Hudson Bay mining jumped 1/4 on the Canadian list. Aluminum Ltd. and International Nickel rose 1/4.

Walker Gooderham 1/4.

American exchange prices were generally higher. On the Canadian list Shawinigan, Eureka Mining, Preston East Dome and Jupiter oils all rose small fractions.

AT MONTREAL prices remained firm on the stock exchange during light trading today.

AT LONDON investment

WINNIPEG (CP) — Some revival in Canadian grain export business was disclosed today on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

'BENNETT WANTED TO HAND COLUMBIA POWER TO U.S.'

RAY PERRAULT
Ottawa blocked plan.

KELOWNA (CP)—Liberal Leader Ray Perrault said Tuesday only the intervention of the Liberal government in Ottawa prevented Premier Bennett from handing over the flow of the Columbia River to United States control in 1955.

Mr. Perrault said the premier planned to permit the Puget Sound Utilities Commission to erect a dam at Mica Creek near Revelstoke for water control and power generation.

Had the premier succeeded, B.C. would have lost its last low-cost power source, the Liberal leader said.

Making an Okanagan television broadcast at the start of a province-wide tour, Mr. Perrault said U.S. interests are behind a proposed Arrow Lake dam on the Columbia which he said would "mean disaster to B.C. residents along the river."

PERRAULT:

Jobless Problem 'The Real Issue'

PENTICTON (CP)—B.C. Liberal Leader Ray Perrault said Tuesday night unemployment is "the real issue" of the Sept. 12 provincial general election.

"It is an issue the premier refuses to admit," Mr. Perrault, addressing 80 persons on behalf of Similkameen candidate Joe Winklaar, said 60,000 persons now are unemployed in B.C. "and yet Premier Bennett has said we are 'moving ahead to the golden 1960s'."

The Liberal leader said progress in B.C. cannot be measured by the amount of highway blacktop.

"NO REAL DEMOCRACY" "Social Credit claims it is the party which gets things done," he said. "Hitler got things done too—he built the autobahn which stretches across Germany. But in that Germany, as here in B.C. today, there was no real democracy."

Mr. Perrault said the Liberal party if elected would start an emergency public works program and training scheme to help the unemployed and provide financial aid to assist the economy.

He also promised that the Liberal party would extend health insurance, build a UBC clinic, start a chronic hospital plan, increase aid to municipalities and establish an Okanagan college providing a two-year arts course.

"CFP candidates should tell the people this," added Perrault.

'VOTE AGAINST B.C. ELECTRIC'

Homeowner Bonus by Public Power

Taxpayers can get a much better bonus than the $50 homeowners grant by voting against the B.C. Electric in the Sept. 12 election, CCFer Pat Thomas said Tuesday.

Election Promises In Orbit

Political parties, who offer to take over all education costs when elected, are "launching satellite promises into orbit," Saanich Social Credit candidate John Tisdale said at an election rally Tuesday in Marigold Community Hall.

"They are flying so high and so fast, this is probably the last that will be seen of them," he said.

None of Social Credit's opponents who were offering to take over the cost of education had ever been known to offer to do so in a province where they formed the government, he said.

It was strange that in Saskatchewan, where the economy is made up of 80 per cent farms, the CCF has not offered to relieve the farmer of the cost of education.

Mr. Tisdale said that since 1955 the Social Credit government has taken more than $54,000,000 from the ground in the form of gas and oil revenue.

"This is new revenue that never existed before and it's where your home-owner grant came from," he added. "It is your share in the natural resources of the province."

Home-owner grants during 1959 amounted to more than $15,000,000, he said.

The Saanich candidate told a meeting in Cordova Bay Community Hall a CCF vote would be a vote against the B.C.E.

"B.C. Electric and its cohorts have saddled us with high-cost power and high rates for far too long," said Mr. Thomas.

"It is time the B.C. Electric was placed under the people's B.C. Hydro. This is the real way all families, all taxpayers, can vote themselves a real bonus."

MORE JOBS

Public-owned power, he said, means more jobs, cheaper light bills and new industries, through cheaper power costs.

"Because public power attracts industry better than private power it also provides a wide tax base, so that it helps the municipal taxpayer as well," said Mr. Thomas.

Earlier, in a speech to the Women's Council Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Thomas said "So cred big money boys in the fancy offices and penthouses are becoming afraid the CCF will win this election."

SMEAR, FEAR

He said they are waging an "unparalleled campaign of smear, fear and innuendo." He called them "experts" in the art of half-truth and distortion.

Mr. Thomas said the Social Crediters are campaigning "for the invisible candidate, Axel Wenner-Gren," the backer of Peace River Power Development Co.

ANGRY OKANAGAN MEETING

Vegetable Growers Fume at Steacy

WINFIELD, B.C. (CP)—

Angry words were exchanged Tuesday night when a delegation of vegetable growers met Agriculture Minister Steacy as he spoke here in support of Premier Bennett on the final appearance of his Okanagan election tour.

Delegation leader Mel Kawano, president of the Progressive Conservative Association in the premier's South Okanagan riding, said the minister had refused to see the group.

But Mr. Steacy said he did not even know that the growers had asked for an appointment.

"Absolutely false," the minister replied when Mr. Kawano suggested he had been avoiding the delegation. Mr. Steacy said he is "always available."

Cause of the trouble is a new regulation restricting marketing of crops raised within the area controlled by the Interior Vegetable Marketing Board. The growers said that until the measure came into effect this month, they could sell where they wished.

Mr. Steacy said he would be available to see the group "after Sept. 12." But he said he now has "no jurisdiction over the matters of which the growers complained."

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE HELPS BREAK DOWN FATS IN THE DIGESTIVE TRACT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fats, actually breaks them down. It is an established fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fats are broken down and form a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your digestive tract, liver bile helps break down fats the same way. Many of the foods you eat reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down these fats, for easier and more complete digestion.

Carter's Little Liver Pills contain a formula of vegetable ingredients that relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fats in your digestive tract.

So when you feel sluggish, head-achy, nervous and need a laxative, take Carter's Little Liver Pills. Remember, Carter's not only relieves irregularity, but actually improves the flow of liver bile. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today!

PEACE PLAN DEFENDED

Minister Denies Giveaway Charge

(From Duncan Bureau).

There is "no such thing as a giveaway of the resources of this province," Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan said in Duncan Tuesday night in regard to Peace River power development plans.

He spoke to a crowd of 200 at a meeting called to support Mrs. Hazel Fee, Social Credit candidate for Cowichan New-castle in the forthcoming provincial election.

"There has been no discussion in the legislature and no special legislation, and we have no intention of bringing in special legislation."

The statutes of this province set out quite clearly the methods of dealing with the control of water. There is no need for new statutes," Mr. Kiernan said.

Private interests will "put up the money." The government "won't guarantee their bonds or assist in their financing," the minister said.

He said engineering plans have been filed and cleared with the government but "one or two legal points have to be cleared with the Public Utilities Commission."

"If you were to build a dam at the Peace River tomorrow, you wouldn't get any power out until 1967," Mr. Kiernan said. "You would not be ready to put turbines in until 1967, and then would put them in as you needed them."

The proposed dam would create 83 million acre-feet of water and the lake created would be backed up in the Rocky Mountain Trench for a distance of 200 miles.

"The land is mostly muskeg," he said, answering a criticism he said had been levied.

'PUT UP' CHALLENGE TO PREMIER

Progressive Conservative leader Deane Finlayson Tuesday dared Premier Bennett to put up half the money he promised the Pacific National Exhibition.

The premier said he would spend $1 million on the PNE if the federal government matched it.

"Premier Bennett is noted for his promises to spend B.C. funds on vast projects if they will be matched by federal funds," said Mr. Finlayson.

"I suggest he make a start by putting up $500,000."

'WAR CHEST' QUESTIONED

SHAWNIGAN LAKE—Source of Social Credit campaign funds was questioned at a meeting here Tuesday night by Geoff Mitchell, Esquimalt CCF candidate for election to the provincial legislature Sept. 12.

He claimed Social Credit had spent more money on advertising in Victoria papers in the previous two days than his committee would spend on all types of advertising for the whole campaign.

"He who pays the piper calls the tune, and I would like to know who is calling it," he said.

HAROLD WINCH
scores 'sell out'

'ASPHALT HYPNOSIS'

Winch Lambastes Socred Policies

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Harold Winch, CCF member of Parliament for Vancouver East, lambasted the government Tuesday night in an attack on the B.C. government's policies on agriculture, highways, fishing, automation, a 6-4 unemployment rate.

Mr. Winch, speaking on behalf of Delta riding CCF candidate Camille Mather and Jim Rhodes, said of the government's highways program: "They are trying to hypnotize the people with asphalt."

He said highway construction did not represent a special achievement. Any government would have to build highways.

Discussing the government's farm policy, Mr. Winch said lack of departmental planning had endangered the Fraser Valley tomato industry and there might be no crop next year.

He said there had been a "sell-out" of the canning industry to the United States, with only three canneries left in the valley.

Mr. Winch said the herring fleet has not sailed from B.C. ports for more than 18 months, affecting the livelihood of 1,700 fishermen, because the government failed to bring the problems of the fishing industry to the attention of authorities in Ottawa.

'Everything's Throbbing In B.C.'

NELSON (CP)—Highways Minister Gagliardi told an election meeting Tuesday night: "The entire province is beginning to throb under the dynamics of your government."

He said the Pacific Great Eastern Railway now is making money and has aroused outside interest to such a degree that there now is $1,600,000,000 worth of new industry appearing in the province annually.

The minister said British Columbia has the highest wages in Canada, the biggest highway construction program, the leading pulp and paper industry and the best pension plan.

An audience of 200 persons heard Mr. Gagliardi ridicule the "marriage" and "divorce" of the Liberal and Progressive Conservative parties in the coalition which preceded the 1952 Social Credit victory. The parties had become "bankrupt in their ideals."

Israeli to Buy Arms

JERUSALEM (Reuters)—The Israeli parliament was summoned from recess Tuesday to discuss additional indirect taxation to raise $10,000,000 Israeli to buy arms.

RESTRICTIVE LABOR LAW WOULD BE KILLED BY CCF

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)—CCF candidate Orville Braaten said Tuesday his party would repeal Bills 43 and 123 if they win the election. He said Bill 43, the new Trade Unions Act, is "anti-labor" while Bill 123 prohibits civil servants from obtaining trade union recognition and makes them "second-class citizens."

COMMUNITY CHEST test campaign got off the ground today when "pilot" John Daniel received his wings from campaign chairman, Bernard Van

COMMUNITY CHEST TECHNIQUES AIRED

Flying Start for Pilot Campaign

By HAL JONES

Twenty-two "pilots" today launched a test campaign to sound out public reaction and to test techniques for this year's Community Chest campaign which opens Sept. 30.

The "pilots," members of the Canadian Life Underwriters' Association, will each assume the responsibility for canvassing a local firm.

The 22 firms contacted have all agreed to participate in the pilot campaign, purpose of which is two-fold—to test campaign techniques and to demonstrate what can happen when labor and management get together in a really concentrated campaign for community betterment.

It is also hoped that the firms will act as "community pace-setters" for contributions.

The pilot campaign is scheduled to proceed in three stages. From now until Sept. 6 key personnel will be recruited; their training will start from Sept. 6, and canvassing itself will start Sept. 12.

CLU members were addressed in the Pacific Club at noon today by Bernard Van Aggelen, campaign chairman.

Each of the "pilots" received a set of wings. Community Chest version, the base of the design being two red feathers.

Plans are progressing smoothly for the Chest's main campaign though a great deal remains to be done. More than 60,000 red feather symbols, 65,000 pledge cards and 3,000 "canvassers" kits are awaiting completion and distribution.

Woman Suspect Questioned In Burglaries

Motels, Hotels Scene of Thefts

A woman suspect was arrested today by detectives investigating more than $2,500 in motel-hotel thefts since early July.

Saanich detectives said the woman, wearing a sweater, slacks and windbreaker, was charged with trespassing and booked at the city jail.

She will appear in court Thursday afternoon.

For seven weeks local police have been seeking a prowler who creeps into bedrooms in the pre-dawn hours preying mostly on tourist purses and wallets.

Many cases have been in the Gorge motel area, others at downtown motels and hotels and a few private homes in residential areas.

Loot has been mostly cash or cheques, but has included jewellery.

REEVE'S HOPE:

Winter Work To Cover New Sewer

The proposed Cadboro Bay-Gordon Head sewage project and the new No. 1 fire hall may be included in the federal works winter program, Saanich Reeve George Chatterton said today.

The reeve said he has received word from Defence Minister G. R. Peakes, M.P. for Esquimalt-Saanich, that the sewer project can come under the winter works program.

He said he would seek council approval to include the two projects in this winter's program to relieve unemployment and to reduce cost of construction.

The sewer bylaw, twice rejected by ratepayers, will be submitted again for approval in the December elections.

START SOON

If the sewer project is approved by ratepayers, he said, he would seek to expedite the program so that construction could start this winter.

Under the government's works program, Ottawa pays 50 per cent of direct labor costs and the provincial government 25 per cent.

The reeve said it's the intention of council to start construction of a new fire hall to replace the old No. 1 fire hall on Douglas late next year.

But it was his view that the fire hall could also come under the winter works program.

"We would have to speed up plans for its construction," he said. "I believe this can be done. It would cut down costs and provide employment during the winter months."

32 Motorists Caught Up In RCMP Blitz

A two-day RCMP blitz has netted 32 motorists for speeding past radar check points in this area.

Highway patrolmen set up radar equipment Monday and Tuesday in Sidney, Colwood, Sooke and Malahat areas containing 30, 40 and 60 miles an hour speed zones.

In addition to the drivers charged, 69 others were given warnings about their driving. Sixteen out of 18 charged in the Sidney area Tuesday will appear in RCMP court Thursday and Friday.

Advance Poll At YMCA For Election

Advances been set in 28 districts for the provincial election.

The YMCA in Victoria will be the group centre for all Greater Victoria ridings—Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich.

Chief Electoral Officer Fred Hurley says advance polls will be open from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Sept. 8, 9 and 10. Election day is Sept. 12 and the advance polls are for people who will either be away or otherwise unable to cast their ballots then.

UNION REQUEST

Mr. Hurley added some extra stations to the list to assist the fishing industry after a request from the United Fishermen's and Allied Workers' Union.

They will take votes from men en route to fishing grounds during the advance poll period.

Other mariners will vote at port polling stations.

Besides the YMCA in Victoria, other Island advance polls are at Uchelet and Queen's Cove in Alberni riding; Winter Harbour in Comox constituency; Port Renfrew in Esquimalt, and Nanaimo.

ASK The TIMES

Q. Where can a person purchase lecithin, emulsifier, sodium benzoate? Please explain what is meant by markings on (drug products) such as: Contains 3,525 IU. Vitamin A. Why all those high figures with "IU"? What do they stand for? M.O.H.

A. Lecithin, a heavy protein can be purchased from the majority of drug stores, as can emulsifiers, used largely for diets to give the impression of a full stomach, and sodium benzoate, a preservative. "IU" means international units. This form is used in Canada, the United States and Great Britain to achieve the same standards in drug products. Your figure, 3,525, means 3,525 milligrams of vitamin A in the product concerned. The same terminology applies to other drug products, unless specifically mentioned otherwise.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve problems of legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to dealer.

Engraved 'Invites' Raise Brows

The unprecedented engraved invitations from "the Premier of the province" to a campaign rally, going the rounds of the malls in Victoria, are raising political eyebrows.

Some of the Social Credit premier's opponents are asking if the special invitations are intended to give the impression that the rally Friday in the Royal Theatre is a meeting on government business.

Nowhere on the invitation appears the customary campaign signature that it comes from the Social Credit party.

"Who's paying for it if it's not a Social Credit rally?" asked one local candidate. "If it is a Social Credit rally why doesn't the invitation say so?"

He added: "I hope public funds aren't being used."

The invitations, sent to a special list, mark a new departure in campaigning around Victoria.

The invitation reads this way:

"The Hon. W. A. C. Bennett, Premier of the province of British Columbia, sends to you and your guests a personal invitation to attend a public meeting on Friday, the 26th of August, in the Royal Theatre, at 8.30 p.m. Doors will open at 7 p.m. Seats will be held until 7.45."

MONTE ROBERTS

Men don't like to visit the barber. This should not be so. Barbers, by and large, are kindly, pleasant men, who do a competent job with a minimum of fuss and in jig time.

But it is true that most men forget to keep a date with a barber with the same tenacity of purpose and ingenuity of alibi they use in forgetting to keep an appointment with the dentist.

Thus the steadily increasing price for a haircut has come as a blessing to a great many men, who can now say to their feminine influences:

"At a huck and a half a copy, I'm going to wait until I get my money's worth."

I must confess I have used this gimmick myself, with (I think) fair success, although it is hard to tell whether it actually delays the inevitable, or simply starts My Favorite Wife to hinting well in advance of the time she used to hint before haircuts cost what they cost now.

The trouble is, does a man have the courage to give the same explanation to his barber when he is finally browbeaten into having his brow neatened?

Some men, maybe. Not this one.

I am still looking for an ironclad alibi for taking a head of hair which would shame a shaggy dog into an unsuspecting clip-joint.

I have tried saying: "Had a bad code in my head. Did'ud wad to catch more code. Thought I'd better wade to get my hair cut."

Somehow, this seemed to go over with all the verve and bounce of our centennial balloons.

The nonchalant approach doesn't get far, either. I've tried: "Well, here's a real crop of hay to mow."

And: "You got a mattress, I got the stuffing."

As the old bard said, the silence you most could hear. And how is it that a man standing behind you can sneer right through the back of your head?

I have toyed with the idea of explaining I am a member of a little-known religious sect, whose members may be shorn only at the dark of the moon on alternate Michaelmas days.

But I guess the simplest solution is to avoid any need of explanation, by paying a visit to the barber at regular intervals.

I.e., whenever my wife makes me.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A lengthy and controversial meeting is expected tonight at the 8 o'clock unveiling of the city's proposed new sign-by-law.

Sign company representatives, city officials and various merchant groups, planning boards and Victoria Art Gallery delegations are expected to present briefs at the session in city council chambers which will be open to the public.

A government-designed fall-out shelter built at Thunderbird Park will open for public inspection this weekend.

The shelter will be open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Air Commodore Gordon G. Truscott, deputy commander, Maritime Pacific, will inspect graduates and present awards at graduation ceremonies for the RCAF's Reserve Tradesmen Training Plan to be held Friday.

Ceremonies will start at 7.30 p.m. at headquarters on Yates Street.

William Hilton, no fixed address, was fined $50—or one month in jail—when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to supplying liquor to a 17-year-old boy.

Police said he saw the minor give Hilton some money, which he took into Humboldt Street liquor store and emerged with a case of beer and handed it to the boy.

Laying of plastic freezing pipes now underway in Memorial Arena is expected to be followed Monday by the start of concrete pouring.

A special curing compound will be worked into the concrete to allow earlier use of the new floor.

Arena commission chairman F. C. Mulliner said there was no danger of the project interfering with the hockey season, scheduled to start the first week of October.

An appeal for furniture and some household goods to assist a group of old-age pensioners who are converting a house they bought at 46 Simms Avenue to recreational use, was made Tuesday by Frank Heaton, Saanich welfare administrator.

Some kitchen chairs, two or three armchairs, cups, and saucers and chests for storage purpose are wanted, he said.

A number of local high school students were among a large group which visited the Health Centre for children at the Vancouver General Hospital, Monday.

They saw the centre's facilities for care of sick children and its teaching and research programs. The group also toured the wards where some 5,000 sick children from all over British Columbia receive care annually, and the outpatients department where 23,000 consultations are provided each year for children from low-income groups.

China Snack Sets, Ideal For Television Viewers

By PENNY SAVER

Even if you've forsaken your television set, during the summer I think you'll admit there's something very appealing about having a snack while you watch a good show—especially when rain squalls make outdoor activities less attractive. At such times, you'll want some of the good looking imported snack sets that have just been put on display by one downtown store.

Sets are in fine white china and both shell-shaped plate and dainty cup that fits into special indent of the plate are edged and decorated in gold. There are four designs available.

One has maple leaves while others are trimmed with palm trees, pine cones or wheat sheaves. Sets are low-priced at 60 cents.

Even with autumn almost here patio meals can still be enjoyed once in a while. If you've been looking for extra china mugs to use on these occasions I'd suggest you take a look at novel ones that have just made their debut in town. These, too, are imported. They have sturdy handles, all are decorated with jolly designs, many featuring Dad in his role of chief barbecue cook. They are very inexpensive, only 39 cents each.

What woman ever has enough pairs of white gloves? You'll be able to stock up on this perennial necessity if you take advantage of a special in another downtown store. Smart nylon stretchie gloves that have a double band of feather stitching on the short-length cuffs are now on sale at 59 cents a pair. These are a terrific boon to busy women because they require such little care. When they're soiled, just throw them in the washing machine and they'll soon come out as good as new.

For information on any of these items give Penny a ring at EV 2-3131.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Does the Sound of Your Voice Surprise You?

We can see any wrinkles we may have or a roll above our girdle, but we cannot hear how we sound to others. Have you ever listened to yourself on a tape recorder or recorded a message on one of those little disks? If so I am sure that you were surprised by the way you sounded and that you did not sound at all like you expected. I was astonished when I first heard myself on a recorded radio program. I am a Kentuckian but my accent sounds more like New England on radio. The tone and depth and expression and enunciation and timing of your voice is such an important part of your personality ensemble that you really should try to improve it and keep it youthful.

A tape recorder is lots of fun to have in the home. It is invaluable to anyone who does any public speaking or wishes to improve his or her speaking voice. If you hear yourself as others hear you, you will notice that the faster you talk the more high pitched your voice becomes. You will slow down to a softer and warmer sound. You may be surprised to find that your voice is shrill, flat or grating. Once you become familiar with your voice on magnetic recording tape, you will find that most of your difficulty stems not so much from faulty pronunciation or enunciation but from your delivery.

For weeks after I first heard myself on tape I was very conscious about talking more slowly (I had no idea how rapidly I talk) and was more careful about slurring words together. Another common failing is talking through the nose. Only the sounds of "m" and "n" should resonate in the nose. By pinching the nostrils together and speaking, you should feel vibrations only with the "m" and "n" letters. If you feel more vibrations you probably have a nasal voice. Humming is the best exercise for remedying it.

Display Includes Copies of Royal Tiaras and Other Pieces Jewelry

LONDON (CP)—A rhinestone replica of Princess Margaret's wedding tiara will soon be on display in Canada.

It will be part of a collection of jewelry to be housed permanently in the Niagara Park Commission buildings at Niagara Falls, Ont.

The models are products of Paris House, a small, discreet firm in London's expensive Bond Street neighborhood.

"We were thrilled when we heard that the commission wanted to buy our work," said Betty Allan, co-owner with her husband of Paris House.

The first order followed a showing in New York of a collection of fashions originally seen privately by the Queen Mother. Paris House provided all the jewelry for this show, and subsequently received a letter from the Ontario government asking if the collection's 22 tiaras were for sale.

Princess Margaret's wedding jewelry is part of another order.

About half of the 22 tiaras have already been sent. These include copies of the Queen Mother's favorite tiara, and that of the Countess of Rosse, Anthony Armstrong-Jones' mother.

No definite date has been set for the opening of this part of the exhibition.

The jewelry is made on the firm's business matters.

Paris House premises by Cyril Wakefield and his son, who has just joined the firm. The skill of these men is such that all copies are made from pictures or sketches.

Another famous client of the Allans is Marilyn Monroe, who wore Paris House jewelry in a film.

Mrs. Allan is a small, dark woman in her early 40's. Her enthusiasm is the quiet well-bred variety, but it is unmistakable.

"I love old jewelry, and often buy Victorian beads or stones," she said. "I usually have to wait a while, though, before I am inspired as to what to do with them."

DEAR ABBY

Cater to His Ego, Lady!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband works all day in an air-conditioned office. When he comes home he gripes his head off about what a tough day he's had. He should stay home and take care of an eight-room house with four kids under his feet and see how he likes it.

I wish you'd say something in your column about husbands who keep telling their wives what a cinch housework is. What's wrong with husbands anyway?

OVERWORKED AND NOT APPRECIATED.

DEAR OVERWORKED: All men love to gripe. Let him get it out of his system. It's good for him. He just wants you to put your arms around him and tell him how wonderful he is. Try it. He'll wind up telling you what a doll you are.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't give me a lecture. I know I did wrong but I am in trouble and need help.

I am 19 and work in a large store. One of my supervisors started taking me out for coffee breaks and lunches and then it got serious. I knew he had a wife and family, but the attraction was too strong to stamped, self-addressed envelope. Now I am expecting his baby. He says I can't expect any help from him, financial or otherwise.

I'll have to quit work soon. I can't face my parents. Should I go to his wife or should I tell our employer?

DESPERATE.

DEAR DESPERATE: Don't go to his wife. You would only hurt an innocent family and gain nothing. Don't tell your employer. He'd probably fire you either. SEE A LAWYER. He should be able to convince your "friend" that he has a responsibility to face up to.

these quick freezer tricks add appeal to every meal

If you think a home freezer is just a means of cutting food costs—or saving shopping trips—or improving family nutrition, you're missing all the adventure of home freezing! Certainly it will help you do all these things, but the real magic of a home freezer is in the exciting ways you can use it to add variety while you save time in preparing every meal.

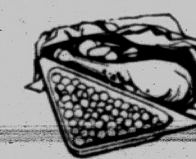

COOK DOUBLE: IT'S HALF THE TROUBLE! Next time you make a meat loaf, casserole, stew or chili pot—in fact, any savory mixed dish—remember, it's almost as easy to make two. Serve one now and store the other in the freezer for future reference. And you'll always be prepared for busy days or unexpected guests with a delicious, ready-to-heat dinner. Think of the pot-and-pan washing you'll save, too.

EVER SEEN SQUARE GRAVY—OR EGG CUBES? That last-minute gravy-making chore can set the whole meal off schedule—so why not freeze up a stock of ready-to-warm gravy cubes with your next roast? Just pour surplus gravy into ice cube trays, freeze and pack the cubes in freezer bags. Same trick works beautifully with heart-warming home-made soups and soup stocks: wonderful when the weather turns suddenly chilly! Even eggs can be frozen in cubes—at a big saving if you buy them at low, seasonal prices.

HOW TO BRIGHTEN BREAKFASTS—Start the morning right with nourishing, home-frozen fruits and juices—then follow up by warming pre-cooked frozen waffles in the toaster—or top off by warming home-baked frozen fruit muffins in the oven.

STOCKPILE SANDWICHES AND LUNCH BOX SPECIALTIES If sandwich lunches are in constant demand in your home, a freezer can be a real time-saver. Make a big variety of sandwiches once a week—wrap them up, label and freeze. You can do the same with special hostess sandwiches, too, and store them days or weeks before the party. And don't forget lunch desserts: freeze individually wrapped servings of freshly-baked or leftover cake, tarts or cookies, ready to pop into lunch boxes for a quick getaway in the morning.

FILL YOUR FREEZER WITH "HURRY-UP DINNERS"—Use leftover meat slices and vegetables arranged on freezer plates to make your own nutritious, ready-to-heat frozen TV dinners for evenings when you're in a rush. Then top the meal off with one of those delicious pies you baked in quantity when fruits and berries were selling at low, in-season prices.

ENJOY THE FUN OF FREEZING—Be daring—experiment with new recipes and even new storage containers that add interesting shapes to old favorites! And if you need information—please feel free to call B.C. Electric Home Economists at any time for new freezer ideas and special recipes. For exciting food ideas—Look into a Home Freezer!

ROUND, ABOUT

Agricultural Mecca Now!

By JUDY NICHOLSON

Anyone with an eye for down-to-earth honest to goodness beauty need only spend a few days in British Columbia's Okanagan valley right now to realize it is one of the most beautiful spots around. After a five-day tour of this agricultural mecca, my head is spinning with the knowledge I gained on vegetable and fruit growing, packing and processing.

I was one of a lucky seven women from press, radio, television and home economic departments taken on a five-day trip sponsored by the British Columbia Department of Agriculture. The tour took in both the southern and northern Okanagan area.

The first stop was Oliver, where we visited a new farm which produces large Spanish onions and the biggest tomatoes I've ever laid my eyes on! The 200-acre Covert farm is high in the hills. Eighty of those acres are planted with onions producing an average of 15 tons. Another 60 acres are covered with tomato plants.

We saw the onions harvested, cleaned and packed, and believe me, it's a dusty chore. The onions are picked up from the fields in the thousands by a machine that runs at a snail pace along the rows.

Youngsters clean and grade the onions along a belt, and the string sacks catch them at the back of the machine.

Onions are carefully inspected for type and weight, then they're shipped as far away as eastern Canada. It looks simple, but it's hard work.

On this same farm, cucumbers, squash, cantaloupe, peppers and vegetable marrow are growing, not for sale this year, but for experimentation.

PEACH KEEN

Next, we went to a peach orchard near Penticton.

Fresh, juicy peaches. Umm! I had a ball!

Eric Tai peach farm is one of the largest and oldest in that area.

"Peaches are one of the hardest fruits to harvest," he told us, "they must be picked at the psychological moment—not too green or not too ripe."

And picking of peaches is a tough job. They must be grasped with the whole hand, with very little pressure, or they'll bruise. They're packed very gently and shipped away the same day.

If you're ever up in the Summerland area, you should go through the Fruit and Vegetable Laboratory, Canada Regional Research Station. There, in a forest of tubes, vats and bottles of this and that, fruits from the farms are turned into interesting products such as pie fillings, jams and fruit drinks. All fruit-processing plants must send samples of their products to this lab for final approval before manufacturing in large quantities.

Twin Conducts Service At Brother's Wedding

Word has been received that Lieut. Joseph William Ratcliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ratcliffe of Langford, was married to Lieut. Sylvia Irene Rooks, in a Salvation Army service in First United Church, at Vermilion, Alta., in early summer. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Rooks of Vermilion. Both the principals are Salvation Army officers.

Lieut. S. Ratcliffe, twin brother of the groom, officiated, assisted by Lieut. K. Oates, Lloydminster, Sask. The bridal party all wore Salvation Army uniforms. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of red and pink sweetheart roses.

Matron of honor, Mrs. S. Ratcliffe, had a nosegay of yellow roses, bridesmaid, Mrs. D. Moore, carried a nosegay of pink roses, and bridesmaid, Lieut. Diane May, carried blue carnations.

Tiny flower girl Cathy Ratcliffe, niece of the groom, was in a yellow-flocked nylon dress with matching headband and carried a basket of mixed flowers.

Brother of the bride, Lieut. Roger Rooks, was best man, and ushers were Capt. D. Moore and H. Sutton, brother of the bride. Capt. Moore sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love," while Mrs. Ratcliffe sang "A Wedding Prayer." Mrs. A. West played the wedding music.

Lieut. S. Ratcliffe was master of ceremonies at a reception in the church hall where the church's woman's auxiliary catered for the 200 guests. Mrs. Mary Isley proposed the toast. Songs were sung by Lieut. S. Ratcliffe and Mrs. Ratcliffe and Miss Donna Isley. Miss Linda Evans, cousin of the bride, and Miss Deanna Currie were in charge of the guest book.

For a honeymoon trip to the United States and to the West Coast the new Mrs. Ratcliffe chose a white eyelet-embroidered dress with blue duster and pink and white accessories. As a corsage she wore the pink roses from her bouquet.

The newlyweds are now living in Powell River, where both are stationed with the Salvation Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ronald Webb, 4280 Gordon Head Road, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Adelaide Ann Marie, to Mr. Richard Arthur Gill, son of Mrs. Ethel Gladys Gill and the late J. B. Percy Gill. The wedding will take place on Saturday, September 3 at 8 p.m. in St. John's Anglican Church with Canon George Biddle officiating, assisted by Canon A. E. Greenhalgh.

Canadian Delegates at International Council Meeting to Urge Combat on Racial Prejudices

OTTAWA (C.P.)—Eight delegates from Canada's National Council of Women are among representatives from 40 countries at the conference of the International Council of Women in Istanbul which started Monday and continues until September 1.

Since the last international meeting in Montreal in 1957, Turkey, Thailand and Japan have joined the international body of women. The present meeting will consider applications from Korea and Tunisia.

The Canadian delegation is taking a resolution urging women to combat racial and other prejudice by home teaching. The Canadian proposal from its annual meeting at Niagara Falls in June, calls for a concerted effort by women to "bring up a generation of children free from prejudice as regards race, color and creed; a generation of children aware that the human family is one, dependent and interdependent, with common needs and aspirations."

Several other countries have proposed action on prejudice.

VARIOUS APPROACHES

Israel suggests the approach be through the school and public organizations. The United Kingdom group proposes legislation. Southern Rhodesia advocates a standing committee on human relations for the international council.

Belgian and Greek women seek more attention to the United Nations declaration on human rights.

Swiss women want support for efforts of the International Red Cross to clarify rules of international law on protection of civilians against effects of war.

Guaranteed by Carnation to nourish and protect the baby on a partly-skimmed milk formula Morning Milk

If your doctor prescribes a partly-skimmed milk for your baby, ask your grocer for Morning. Morning is the only partly-skimmed evaporated milk that meets the rigid quality standards of the makers of Carnation.

Digestible: Morning is more digestible for many babies because the butterfat content has been reduced.

Nourishing: Morning is pure, fresh milk with all the natural food values so important to proper growth. Vitamin D—the sunshine vitamin—has been increased to 800 Units per pint.

Safe: Morning's quality is guaranteed by the strict laboratory controls of Carnation. And Morning is protected by a can that is specially designed for evaporated milk.

Economical: Morning—the partly-skimmed evaporated milk made by Carnation—gives you quality at an important saving. Compare prices today with other brands of partly-skimmed evaporated milk. You save up to 25%.

Use Morning for your cooking and coffee creaming, too!

Small Truck Wrecked In Trees

A half-ton truck was wrecked and its driver, Clarence Smith, 21, of New Westminster, stunned when it careened 100 feet off the Sooke road into trees at 4:15 p.m. Tuesday.

The driver was treated at St. Mary's, Langford, and released.

Colwood RCMP said the truck missed a left turn on the road and hit a tree, hitting it 2 1/2 feet above the truck body.

Smith, an employee of B.C. Telephone Co., presently working and living at Sooke, was driving a private vehicle, police said.

SECOND ACCIDENT

At 5:25 p.m., occupants of two cars that slammed together at a stop sign on the intersection of Douglas and Trans-Canada Highway escaped without injury, though damages to their cars were estimated at $600.

Saanich police said cars were driven by Caspar Koehne, of Cloverdale, and Ellen Stohl, 568 Forward.

Reprieve of Killer Stirs Girl's Mother

CALGARY (CP)—The would-be eligible for parole in mother of 10-year-old Lynne Lefurage, killed last November by a brutal assault in a Calgary church basement, has reacted angrily to the commutation of a death sentence imposed on the girl's convicted murderer.

Mrs. Muriel Lefurage was told that the federal cabinet had commuted to a life sentence the death penalty for Ronald Harry McCorquodale, 25, and that McCorquodale

"You mean he may be free again in 10 years?" Mrs. Lefurage asked. "He won't be committed to an institution? He murdered my little girl. Why should I go ahead and support him with taxes while he's in jail?"

Calgary criminal lawyer E. J. McCormick commented that reprieved sex murderers should be required to live in Ottawa and work as gardeners for the people who released them.

Mr. McCormick said the commutation resulted from a review of trial proceedings and evidence from a "mysterious psychiatrist" who appeared privately before the cabinet.

Neither the Crown nor defence attorneys had an opportunity to cross-examine such an "expert" to determine his qualifications or private views.

'MOVE ALONG PRINCE' AND RAINIER DID THAT

AJACCIO, Corsica (UPI)—Monaco's Prince Rainier left Corsica ahead of schedule in his new yacht today, apparently offended because harbor police told him to "move along."

The yacht, carrying Rainier, Princess Grace and their two children as passengers, sailed without awaiting a scheduled courtesy call from Corsica's Gov. Bernard Vaugon.

Harbor police had ordered the yacht moved because it was moored too near a cigaret warehouse to suit them. If a crowd gathered to gawk at the visitors, the police said, thieves might use it as a cover to raid the warehouse.

WASHINGTON AMPITHEATRE

Canada Ballet Group Praised in U.S. Debut

WASHINGTON (CP)—The National Ballet of Canada opened a week's engagement in an outdoor park here Tuesday night and drew warm praise from reviewers of Washington's three daily news papers.

The National Ballet is performing in the 4,500-seat Carter-Barron Amphitheatre, in Rock Creek Park. Rain had threatened earlier to close the first of several performances.

Ballet said that Ballard as performed by the National Ballet "is a work of vigor, suspense and sheer choreographic genius in many ways."

The surprise of the evening was the pas de deux romatique "an original by premier danseur David Adams, who dances it with prima ballerina Lois Smith."

"Lois Smith emerged as a stunning technician, with magnificent balance and a languorous line that kept the audience spellbound."

MUCH IMPROVED
Milton Beliner, of the Daily News, found "a new elegance that is immediately discernible in the very credible Les Sylphides. The company has come a long way since its previous appearance in 1955 and 1956."

Harry Somers, who wrote the score for Ballard, drew plaudits from both reviewers. "The company did itself proud with the ballet Ballard, set to an exceptionally fine score," by Harry Somers," said Beliner.

Harry McArthur, of the Daily Star, suggested that the ballet's artistic director, Celia Franca, should "arrange from now on to make this Washington appearance an annual affair. Four years between visits is too long."

Acting by Miss Woodward Academy Award winner for "The Three Faces of Eve" is altogether brilliant. Unfortunately, her husband in real life Newman breaks the bonds of despondency only towards the end. For too much of the picture he clings tenaciously to almost a single line drawing of his character, as though to let go would be to let himself go.

Others, Miss Balin, Leon Ames, Patrick O'Neal and Felix Aylmer, lend fine support in performances.

U.K. Strike Leader Jailed

LONDON (AP)—Patrick Neary, leader of a wildcat sea men's strike that stranded hundreds of North American tourists in Britain's seaports, was jailed Tuesday for inciting seamen to walk off their ships.

Neary, chairman of the National Seamen's Reform Movement, was convicted of a contempt of court by inciting crew members to go on strike after the court ordered him not to.

A high court judge said Neary blatantly defied the injunction by calling on crew members to stop the liner Queen Mary from sailing. The Queen Mary was strike-bound for a week. Most of her 1,800 passengers were still flown home in an emergency.

Neary was not sentenced to a definite term. He will stay in jail until he apologizes and cast at 750,000.

Potsdam Papers Stir Storm

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats say that former President Truman agreed with the late Josef Stalin to stall an investigation to find out if the Potsdam papers were leaked for publication for political purposes.

Mansfield, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said he will ask the Senate foreign relations committee to inquire into whether there were any political overtones in the way the documents became available to certain reporters.

STUBBORN DRIVER BACK AS BOSTON TIE-UP ENDS

BOSTON (AP)—A strike that tied up Greater Boston's rapid transit system for 24 hours and inconvenienced thousands of commuters ended late Tuesday.

The settlement included an agreement on an impartial arbitrator who will aid in settling a contract dispute. The union has worked without a contract since Jan. 1.

It also was agreed that the driver who began it all by refusing overtime, Edward L. Burns of Westwood, would be reinstated and given a hearing on the merits of his case.

Alaska Fishboats Swamped With Heavy Run of Salmon

USE SEINERS FOR TUNA FISHERMEN PROPOSE

VANCOUVER (CP)—A British Columbia fishermen's union, alarmed at provincial unemployment and dull fishing, has suggested to Ottawa that the Pacific tuna industry be investigated, with government help.

In a letter to Fisheries Minister MacLean the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (UFAWU) suggests tuna could be caught in the seiners previously used in the defunct herring industry.

"The large seiners would be ideal for tuna fishing," the union letter said.

The UFAWU said six of the largest B.C. seiners should be hired, with each crew member on a basic wage of $100 a month, plus a payment for production.

Each seiner would take a department observer.

The union said B.C. now imports most of her tuna, and the Soviet Union and Japan are both taking advantage of the huge Pacific tuna potential.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (Reuters) — The silvery salmon along Alaska's lengthy coastline are providing one of the biggest ocean harvests of recent years and reviving the prosperity of Alaskan fishing banks after 10 years of decline.

The Alaska department of fish and game says the 1960 catch so far has provided a total of 1,460,653 cases of salmon. The 1959 total for the comparable period was 851,136 cases.

Fishermen and state fisheries personnel were jubilant over the catch at Bristol Bay in western Alaska, where the "silver horde" literally swamped the 1,000-boat fishing fleet.

Other commercial seafoods show some gains. To date, about 15,000 tons of herring and 38,000 cases of razor clams have been packed. A harvest of 3,094,553 king crabs was reported from Kachemak Bay on the Kenai Peninsula, a fast-growing commercial crabbing fishing area.

Besides producing a bigger income for Alaskan fishermen, the 1960 ocean harvest will increase the revenue of the state of Alaska, which receives three per cent of the wholesale value of each case of canned salmon.

THRILL FOR VACATIONERS

Modern Road Leads To Old Ghost Town

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

The road to Barkerville still offers a thrill for any vacationer in the Cariboo, but just now the thrill may not be altogether historical.

A hard surface road is being laid over the 52 miles from Quesnel to the old mining town, now being restored as a tourist attraction by the British Columbia recreation department.

As yet, however, the road is rough and dusty and there are stretches which call for careful navigation. Many tourists prefer to take the little red bus operated daily, winter and summer, by Barkerville-born Paul Pavich.

SLOW AND SAFE

Having covered this route, through snow, storms and dust for six years past, Mr. Pavich is a confident driver who takes no chances but covers the 52 miles in just two hours.

The physical thrills come when the little red bus makes a spine-shaking detour (sorry for the inconvenience) to circumvent Mr. Gaglardi's cavorting bulldozers.

The historical thrills begin when you reach Cottonwood and the first of the old miners' houses.

At the ghost town of Stanley (formerly called Van Winkle) are lonely log huts standing deserted where 10,000 miners once panned gravel and surged through the surrounding hills.

Another 10 miles along the twisty mountain road brings you to Wells, where gold-quartz mining operations still provide employment for a town of nearly 1,000 people.

RADIO AERIALS

You notice the forest of radio aerials, reminiscent of the 20's and early 30's when radio reception was difficult. In mountainous Wells they still have to "reach" for the radio signals, as we did in days gone by and TV is almost unknown.

Five miles farther on you turn a corner and between mountains and trees encounter a sign announcing that you are entering the one and only Barkerville.

The road parallels famous Williams Creek, the historic stream which, in the 1860's, yielded gold at the rate of $1,000 per foot.

Up to 4,000 men are believed to have worked on this stream at one time, but only a few achieved wealth.

There is a government camp site near the entrance to the town, the only overnight accommodation offered as yet, but next year there will probably be a hotel or auto court.

Today, the visitor or historian must stay at an Old West type hotel in Wells and commute daily to Barkerville.

Gold fever catches every visitor and most of them work the streams in the hope of finding a few flecks of gold to take home as souvenirs.

Men in the 80's and 90's are still looking for gold in these parts and their optimism is unfailing. Tomorrow, or the day after tomorrow (they hope) someone will strike it rich.

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia fishermen earned almost $1,500,000 more this July than they did in the same month a year ago, the Federal Fisheries Department reported today.

Fisheries earnings during the month were $7,267,000 July, 1959. However, the fishermen were on strike for the last seven days of July last year.

The value of salmon landed last month was up 30 per cent at $5,949,000 while sole landings jumped 75 per cent and catches of halibut and ling cod were also up.

The 100,000 pounds of shrimp landed was three times the catch in July, 1959.

Labor Board Asks Delay By Teamsters

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Labor Relations Board said Tuesday that any bid by the International Teamsters Brotherhood to represent workers on the CPR's Merchandise Services should be held off until the new road-rail freight service is expanded over a wider area than British Columbia. The board said it would be "premature" to certify the Teamsters union as bargaining agent for the entire Merchandise Services when only some 425 are involved in the B.C. pilot scheme.

CCF Harm to Business Just Social Credit Fable

NANAIMO (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, honorary national CCF leader, said Tuesday suggestions that business investment in social savings to the government would decline if a CCF government is elected in B.C. "It would keep in B.C. money next month amount to nothing which would otherwise go to more than 'Social Credit' the large finance houses in propaganda."

"The Social Credit party lives on fables," said Mr. Coldwell in an interview on his arrival here to take part in the Sept. 12 provincial general election campaign. (He will speak in Victoria next Monday.)

"Social Credit promised the people of Alberta a dividend and then proceeded to give away their oil resources," he said.

Mr. Coldwell, who received his honorary title on retiring from the party leadership this along the lines of that adopted by the party in Saskatchewan and would be opposed especially by the high-cost group which controls the profession."

Mr. Coldwell urged a new approach to resource development.

He said exploitation of the province's resources under the Social Credit administration has been "shocking. The Columbia River should be developed publicly, the B.C. Electric Company expropriated, and private exploitation of the Peace River ended."

Mr. Coldwell attacked the plans of Swedish financier Axel Wenner Gren with whom he said the Government has "entered into a tentative agreement to alienate the Peace River."

Arts Council Offers Work On City Lot

(From Duncan Bureau)

Cowichan Community Arts Council has offered to form a work party of Boy Scouts to improve the grounds in the centre of the new city operated parking lot on Government Street in Duncan.

Marie E. Evans, of the arts council, in a letter to city council, outlined an offer that would include forming a work party to remove debris at the top of the hill, and plant daffodils and similar flower bulbs. The letter requested city council to provide seats and tables under the next winter works program.

"I would like to take advantage of that offer. It is quite good," said Mayor J. T. Dobson.

Ald. James A. F. Mutter said the city should set up a barricade to prevent cars from parking at night at the hill top. "Somebody is going to get hurt. They throw their beer bottles out of the car windows," Ald. Mutter said. He suggested the city have their parks men supervise the arts council project.

Mayor Dobson said the cost of providing a drinking fountain should be explored. "What annoys me is that we are paying rent for that area and we can't use it as a car park," the mayor said.

Americas Urged by U.S. To Block Reds' Drive

Herter Hints Action on Cuba

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — State-Secretary Christian Herter today urged American foreign ministers to show their grave concern over Cuba's "toleration and encouragement of Communist intervention in the hemisphere's affairs."

Taking up the Cuba question at the meeting of the Organization of American States foreign ministers, Herter declared events indicate Cuba's leaders are directing the island nation "in the Communist direction."

Herter named the Soviet Union and Red China as the Communist powers moving in on the hemisphere and said: "We should call for effective resistance to these efforts of the Sino-Soviet block and restate the validity of our regional association and its principles as guide and instrument for our continued co-operation."

Herter did not spell out what steps should be taken. He said the Senate voted today to shut off all foreign aid money to any country which provides military arms or economic assistance to Cuba. It adopted the proposal, made by Senator Styles Bridges (Rep.-N.H.), as an amendment to a pending $3,989,054,000 foreign aid money bill.

Under the amendment, funds would be withheld from any country which, in the president's judgment, "directly or indirectly is selling arms, munitions or implements of war, to the Castro regime in Cuba, or directly or indirectly is giving or loaning military or economic aid to that regime."

Doctrine Still Good

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower said today that when the chips are down, the U.S. would invoke the Monroe Doctrine and take action against any foreign domination in Latin America. The president did not spell out what precise situation would bring direct action by the United States nor what type of action might be taken. He told his news conference that the United States is operating through an international group — the Organization of American States (OAS) — in Latin America, this does not mean this country would not take action in its own interest if necessary.

Armed Forces Standing By?

HAVANA (AP) — The semi-official newspaper Revolucion declared today the U.S. government has ordered all its military forces in the Caribbean to be ready to carry out "whatever intervention" the Organization of American States orders against Cuba. "I said U.S. parachute troops and air force units are assembled within a short distance of the Caribbean and transports loaded with marines are standing by at the Puerto Rican island of Vieques under the guise of manoeuvres. Revolution told its readers President Eisenhower had ordered an increase in military preparations to combat communism in the Caribbean."

Congo Cuts Imports

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — The Congo government cut its imports by nearly half Tuesday as this troubled nation fought against economic stagnation as well as political chaos. The government banned the import of heavy machinery, textiles and luxury foods to save dwindling foreign reserves.

14c Boost For Railway 'Non-Ops'

OTTAWA (CP) — The majority report of the Milvain Conciliation Board today recommended a three-stage wage boost amounting to 14 cents an hour for some 138,000 "no-op" railway workers across Canada.

The majority proposal slightly more than half the pay increase originally demanded by the 15 "non-op" unions was put forward by Mr. Justice J. V. Milvain of Calgary, board chairman, and endorsed fully by David Lewis, Toronto lawyer and CCF national president, nominated by the unions.

Montreal lawyer Philip Vineberg, railway nominee, opposed the wage award. The compromise settlement, not binding on either the six railways or the 15 unions involved in the dispute, calls for a two-year contract to Dec. 31, 1961, with:

1. An hourly increase of two cents retroactive to Jan. 1.
 2. Another five-cent hourly pay boost effective Sept. 1.
 3. A final increase of 4 per cent, to be paid May 1, 1961.
- The increases, which amount to 14 cents an hour, will keep "non-op" railway pay in line with wages paid in the durable goods industry—but not match them, the board report said.

The reports were released by Labor Minister Starr with a statement that the report of the chairman and Mr. Lewis "constitutes the report of the board."

LONGER VACATION

The report also recommended that railway workers with 25 years of service be granted four weeks vacation with pay each year. Only 35-year men get a four-week paid holiday at present.

A railway demand for a 10-cent charge per worker for handling the check-off of union dues was turned down. The three stages of the 14-cent wage increase will raise average hourly earnings of the "non-op" workers to $1.91 by next May.

Wage rates among "non-op" rail employees vary widely because of the vast range of jobs and skills.

The "non-op" unions—so-called because they bargain for railway workers who do not actually operate trains—originally demanded a two-year contract with a pay increase of seven per cent plus 12½ cents an hour. This would work out to about 25 cents an hour.

The majority report recommendation would cost the railways about $35,000,000 a year if granted.

CANADA JOINS ADVISER TEAM

OTTAWA (UPI) — Canada has accepted United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld's invitation to participate in a multi-nation committee to advise him on the UN's Congo operations, Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced today.

Permanent Canadian UN representative Charles Ritchie will attend the advisory committee's first session later today in New York, the prime minister said.

Looks like Mr. Castro wants to make friends with everybody but his friends. Now's the time when folks like to cast their minds back to the summer of 1960. If Mister Lumumba stays around much longer, the Congo'll be Congone.

'FIRST IN EVERYTHING' NIXON'S BOAST FOR U.S.

DETROIT (UPI) — Vice-President Richard M. Nixon declared today the United States is "first in the world" militarily, economically, scientifically and educationally.

"We have the determination to maintain that position in the years ahead," the Republican vice-presidential nominee said.

Nixon made the statements before the 61st convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

BENNETT:

Start 'Soon' By Wengren

DAWSON CREEK (CP) — Premier Bennett said here Tuesday night he believes the vast $600,000,000 Peace River project will be developed sooner than most people think.

He told a public meeting of about 500 persons that Wengren interests have spent $9,000,000 on surveys by the best engineers in the world on the project.

"As far as I understand it they are going right along with their plans and I'm confident that Peace River power will be developed. I'm one of those who thinks that we need the power from both the Columbia and the Peace Rivers."

OFFERED B.C. HYDRO

The premier said northern waters were offered to B.C. Hydro some years ago, but they were not interested. B.C. Hydro was interested in developing the Columbia when that great billion-dollar plan came into being.

"Our government is one that believes in both private and public enterprise and we will need all the capital that can be obtained by both government guarantees and private enterprise."

The premier made much the same speech he did in opening his northern election campaign in Fort St. John Monday night. But at one point referring to the homeowner grant—raised this year to $50 as a tax-reduction measure for homeowners—he said it came from revenues and declared:

"As revenues increase we will certainly increase it—but that is not a promise."

PNR WILL GO AHEAD

On the proposed 700-mile Pacific Northern Railway from Prince George to the Yukon border, the premier said the private Wenner-Gren promoters had spent millions on surveys and if they didn't go ahead "they will lose it all."

"I think it will go ahead." In contrast to his arrival in Fort St. John, when he was met by a lone local dignitary, the 59-year-old premier rode in a motorcade through Dawson.

HITS GAGLARDI

'Hiding Behind Christianity'

GRAND FORKS (CP) — Mrs. Lois Hagen, BCF MLA seeking re-election in the Sept. 12 provincial election, said Tuesday night Highways Minister Gaglardi has launched "vile attacks" on labor while "hiding behind Christianity."

"The man holds up his hands in the legislature and says he is getting direction from God so he cannot tell a lie."

"Yet he knew he was telling an untruth here last week when he called us the 'CCF Communist party'. He knows we are the biggest enemies of Communism."

VILE TERMS

She said that the minister described labor in terms "so vile that no other MLA would have used them."

"He did that because words flow from his mouth and he thinks that because he is hiding behind Christianity he can get away with it—I haven't much respect for a man who says what he did in the way which he did."

Mrs. Hagen, who won her seat by 11 votes in 1956, was addressing 150 persons at a meeting in her Grand Forks, Greenwood riding.

FINLAYSON RAPS SOCRE D SPENDING

'Brain-Washing Campaign'

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP) — B.C. Progressive Conservative leader Deane Finlayson said Tuesday night the Social Credit government was engaged in a "brain-washing campaign" to convince voters it has provided the best government the province ever had.

"They are spending $50,000 a day," he told a meeting here. "It's going to cost them $2,000,000 by Sept. 12."

Mr. Finlayson, off on a flying tour of the province, said the Pacific Northern Railway is a "figment of the imagination," which would be funny if it were not for the fact that it has attracted unemployed persons to jobs which don't exist.

He said the premier gathered together a "scratch team" of friends to set up a development company for the PNR.

"Then they had the callousness and inhuman tenacity to go through with a start on construction with no intention of carrying it out," he said.

Mr. Finlayson said his party, if returned to power, would relieve Swedish financier Alex Wenner-Gren of his interests in development of the Peace River and substitute public development.

VICTORIA, B.C., WEDNESDAY, AUG. 24, 1960—PAGE 17

MONTÉ ROBERTS

Men don't like to visit the barber. This should not be so. Barbers, by and large, are kindly, pleasant men, who do a competent job with a minimum of fuss and in jig time.

But it is true that most men forget to keep a date with a barber with the same tenacity of purpose and ingenuity of alibi they use in forgetting to keep an appointment with the dentist.

Thus the steadily increasing price for a haircut has come as a blessing to a great many men, who can now say to their feminine influences:

"At a huck and a half a copy, I'm going to wait until I get my money's worth."

I must confess I have used this gimmick myself, with (I think) fair success, although it is hard to tell whether it actually delays the inevitable, or simply starts my Favorite Wife to hinting well in advance of the time she used to hint before haircuts cost what they cost now.

The trouble is, does a man have the courage to give the same explanation to his barber when he is finally browbeaten into having his brow neatened?

Some men, maybe. Not this one.

I am still looking for an ironclad alibi for taking a head of hair which would shame a shaggy dog into an unsuspecting clip-joint.

I have tried saying: "Had a bad code in my head. Did'ud wad to catch more code. Thought I'd better wade to get my hair cut."

Somehow, this seemed to go over with all the verve and bounce of our centennial balloons.

The nonchalant approach doesn't get far, either. I've tried: "Well, here's a real crop of hay to mow."

And: "You got a mattress, I got the stuffing."

As the old bard said, the silence you most could hear. And how is it that a man standing behind you can sneer right through the back of your head?

I have toyed with the idea of explaining I am a member of a little-known religious sect, whose members may be shorn only at the dark of the moon on alternate Michaelmas days.

But I guess the simplest solution is to avoid any need of explanation, by paying a visit to the barber at regular intervals.

I.e., whenever my wife makes me.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A lengthy and controversial meeting is expected tonight at the 8 p.m. unveiling of the city's proposed new sign-by-law.

Sign company representatives, city officials and various merchant groups, planning boards and Victoria Art Gallery delegations are expected to present briefs at the 8 p.m. session in city council chambers which will be open to the public.

A government-designed fall-out shelter built at Thunderbird Park will open for public inspection this weekend.

The shelter will be open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Police said he saw the minor give Hilton some money, which he took into Humboldt Street liquor store and emerged with a case of beer and handed it to the boy.

Laying of plastic freezing pipes now underway in Memorial Arena is expected to be followed Monday by the start of concrete pouring.

A special curing compound will be worked into the concrete to allow earlier use of the new floor.

Arena commission chairman F. G. Mulliner said there was no danger of the project interfering with the hockey season, scheduled to start the first week of October.

An appeal for furniture and some household goods to assist a group of old-age pensioners who are converting a house they bought at 46 St. James Avenue to recreational use, was made Tuesday by Frank Heaton, Saanich welfare administrator.

Some kitchen chairs, two or three armchairs, cups and saucers and chests for storage purpose are wanted, he said.

A number of local high school students were among a large group which visited the Health Centre for children at the Vancouver General Hospital, Monday.

They saw the centre's facilities for care of sick children and its teaching and research programs. The group also toured the wards where some 5,000 sick children from all over British Columbia receive care annually and the outpatients department where 23,000 consultations are provided each year for children from low-income groups.

Q. Where can a person purchase lecithin, emulsifier, sodium benzoate? Please explain what is meant by markings on (drug products) such as: Contains 3,525 I.U. Vitamin A. Why all those high figures with "I.U."? What do they stand for? M.O.H.

A. Lecithin, a heavy protein, can be purchased from the majority of drug stores, as can emulsifiers, used largely for diets to give the impression of a full stomach, and sodium benzoate, a preservative. "I.U." means international units. This form is used in Canada, the United States and Great Britain to achieve the same standards in drug products. Your figure, 3,525, means 3,525 milligrams of vitamin A in the product concerned. The same terminology applies to other drug products, unless specifically mentioned otherwise.

COMMUNITY CHEST TECHNIQUES AIRED

Flying Start for Pilot Campaign

By HAL JONES

Twenty-two "pilots" today launched a test campaign to sound out public reaction and to test techniques for this year's Community Chest campaign which opens Sept. 30.

The "pilots," members of the Canadian Life Underwriters' Association, will each assume the responsibility for canvassing a local firm.

The 22 firms contacted have all agreed to participate in the pilot campaign, purpose of which is two-fold: to test campaign techniques and to demonstrate what can happen when labor and management get together in a really concentrated campaign for community betterment.

It is also hoped that the firms will act as "community pace-setters" for contributions.

The pilot campaign is scheduled to proceed in three stages. From now until Sept. 6 key personnel will be recruited; their training will last from Sept. 6 to 12; and canvassing itself will start Sept. 12.

CLU members were addressed in the Pacific Club at noon today by Bernard Van Aggelen, campaign chairman.

Each of the "pilots" received a set of wings. Community Chest version, the base of the design being two red feathers.

Plans are progressing smoothly for the Chest's main campaign though a great deal remains to be done. More than 60,000 red feather symbols, 65,000 pledge cards and 3,000 canvassers' kits are awaiting completion and distribution.

Woman Suspect Questioned In Burglaries

Motels, Hotels Scene of Thefts

A woman suspect was arrested today by detectives investigating more than $2,500 in motel-hotel thefts since early July.

Saanich detectives said the woman, wearing sweater, slacks and windbreaker, was charged with trespassing and booked at the city jail.

She will appear in court Thursday afternoon.

For seven weeks local police have been seeking a prowler who creeps into bedrooms in the pre-dawn hours preying mostly on tourist purses and wallets.

Many cases have been in the Gorge motel area, others at downtown motels and hotels and a few private homes in residential areas.

Loot has been mostly cash or cheques, but has included jewellery.

REEVE'S HOPE:

Winter Work To Cover New Sewer

The proposed Cadboro Bay-Gordon Head sewage project and the New No. 1 fire hall may be included in the federal works winter program, Saanich Reeve George Chatterton said today.

The reeve said he has received word from Defence Minister G. R. Pearson, M.P. for Esquimalt-Saanich, that the sewer project can come under the winter works program.

He said he would seek council's approval to include the two projects in this winter's program to relieve unemployment and to reduce cost of construction.

The sewer bylaw, twice rejected by ratepayers, will be submitted again for approval in the December elections.

START SOON

If the sewer project is approved by ratepayers, he said, he would seek to expedite the program so that construction could start this winter.

Under the government's works program, Ottawa pays 50 per cent of direct labor costs and the provincial government 25 per cent.

The reeve said it's the intention of council to start construction of a new fire hall to replace the old No. 1 fire hall on Douglas late next year.

But it was his view that the fire hall could also come under the winter works program.

"We would have to speed up plans for its construction," he said. "I believe this can be done. It would cut down costs and provide employment during the winter months."

32 Motorists Caught Up In RCMP Blitz

A two-day RCMP blitz has netted 32 motorists for speeding past radar check points in this area.

Highway patrolmen set up radar equipment Monday and Tuesday in Sidney, Colwood, Sooke and Malahat areas containing 30, 40 and 60 miles an hour speed zones.

In addition to the drivers charged, 69 others were given warnings about their driving. Sixteen out of 18 charged in the Sidney area Tuesday will appear in RCMP court Thursday and Friday.

B.C. Indians Facing Winter of Hardship As Canneries Close

By HUMPHRY DAVY

A grim winter of hardship is facing hundreds of B.C. coastal Indians as the result of the closing of canning and fish reduction plants on Vancouver Island and the mainland.

The unemployment problem is further aggravated by tight catches in most commercial fishing regions, provincial and federal fisheries officials said today.

The depressed industry is expected to result in one of the most serious Indian welfare problems in years.

Klemto, an Indian village on the mainland coast is a good example. Three hundred families are threatened with destitution as the result of the closing down of a fish canning plant this year.

Miss Joanna R. Wright, director of B.C. Indian Advisory Board, said the village is "falling apart."

While traditional methods by which Indians used to earn a livelihood have been decreasing in past years, she said, it had now become a "matter of urgency that new ways be found to make them self-supporting and independent."

She blamed the Indian employment problem on the trend towards consolidation and centralization of canneries in the Vancouver area.

"Fishing pack companies have been obliged to do this because competitive prices on the world market," she said. "But it has taken away the livelihood of many Indian villages situated in remote areas of Vancouver Island and the mainland."

She felt the only answer is establishment of small industries on Indian reservations.

ISLAND PICTURE

Fisheries officials said the employment picture on the west coast of Vancouver Island is no better than the mainland.

"There is little hope of fish reduction plants resuming operation this fall," they said, "due to competition from the Peruvian fishing industry."

"Fishing has also been light and spotty," they said. "It looks like a poor year and no doubt will result in hardships for many Indian families."

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: William G. Harrison, 2538 Quadra, $20 and licence suspension for speeding over 30.

Lawrence William Egginton, 155 Wildwood, $15 for driving with inadequate muffler.

Joseph T. Peebles, 525 Cornwall, $30, Bruce Arthur Abbott, 2300 Foul Bay, $35, for careless driving.

Eugene Norman Brownell, HMC Dockyard, $25 for driving without plates, and $20 for driving without a licence.

Allen Keith McKenzie, HMC Dockyard, $20 for speeding over 30.

Jack Robert Casey, 2876 Colquitz, $10 each for driving with inadequate hand brake and without a horn.

NEVER TOO OLD TO LEARN

Dancing, Electronics, Golf Lure Grown-Ups Back to School

More than 20 per cent of the students attending Greater Victoria schools this winter will be adults.

About 5,700 are expected to enroll in the 1960-61 session of night classes and this figure could go as high as 6,000, officials estimated today as registration lists were thrown open.

Last year about 5,100 adults took advantage of the growing curriculum offered at night school in academic, vocational and recreational fields.

Every year the curriculum has been enlarged to meet the growing demand and this year there will be a record 188 courses to choose from including about 30 introduced for the first time.

These include:

Liberal Leader Ray Perrault "is just as confused about his own whereabouts as he is about ours," CCF Leader Robert Strachan said today.

The CCF leader was commenting on a challenge by Mr. Perrault Tuesday to a joint public debate in Salmon Arm Saturday night.

"Mr. Perrault's itinerary calls for him to be in Revelstoke on that date," said Mr. Strachan. "And I shall be in Dewdney."

He added: "Besides the Liberals don't count in this election—if Mr. Bennett wants a debate, then that's different."

VOTES, NOTES, QUOTES

Premier Aims For Record

Political meetings tonight: Esquimalt Sacred Herb Bruch and Recreation Minister Earle Westwood at Langford Fire Hall, 8 p.m. Esquimalt CCF candidate Geoffrey Mitchell at Cobble Hill Farmers' Institute Hall, 8 p.m.

Edited by NORMAN CRIBBENS

If the B.C. Social Credit government is returned to office Sept. 12, Premier Bennett could become the longest-serving premier of the province.

With eight years in office, he has already served longer than any of his predecessors excepting Sir Richard McBride, Conservative premier for 11½ years from 1904 to 1915, and Hon. John Oliver who headed a Liberal government for 9½ years from 1918 to 1927.

Oak Bay Liberal Alan Macfarlane is "deeply disappointed" that the all-candidates meeting planned by Oak Bay Board of Trade has had to be cancelled.

He blames Sacred candidate George Murdoch and Conservative James George for refusing to attend the meeting.

Mr. Macfarlane, with Oak Bay Councillor Alan Cox will address a Liberal rally in the Municipal Hall, Thursday, at 8 p.m.

When Premier Bennett held his pre-election rally in the Royal Theatre in 1956, there was a power cut, the mikes went dead and the premier could not be heard. Until power was restored, Victoria candidate J. Donald Smith conducted community singing with a rolled-up newspaper.

"I have another newspaper ready in case the same thing happens again," Mr. Smith said.

There will be six speakers besides Premier Bennett at this Friday's Royal Theatre rally—Mr. Smith, Public Works Minister W. N. Chant, Waldo Skilling, Herbert Bruch, John Tisdalle and George Murdoch.

There will also be a big band.

Esquimalt CCFer Geoffrey Mitchell is puzzled why Premier Bennett should have sent him a gilt-edged invitation to the rally.

"I decline with thanks," he said, "since a more important man will be speaking in my riding Friday night."

Mr. Mitchell referred to CCF MP and former party leader Harold Winch who will address a meeting in the Sooke Community Hall.

Campaigning in Port Renfrew, Esquimalt, Sacred candidate Herbert Bruch saw his 1953 election poster with portrait pasted on the wall of a house.

The owner, Bill Halliday, told him it was the latest he had, so Herb gave him a new one.

At Dawson Creek Tuesday night the premier told an audience that Victoria Liberal George Gregory had promised the government that if it built a courthouse he would get out and campaign for Social Credit.

"Well, we're building the courthouse," the premier said, "but Mr. Gregory isn't doing anything for us."

Twenty high school matriculating subjects, nine languages including beginners' courses in Chinese and Russian; 27 vocational subjects ranging from machine shop practice to electronics.

Forty-three apprenticeship courses are offered for indentured apprentices but the general public can enroll in these whenever class size permits.

Seven commercial subjects; 22 courses in non-vocational crafts ranging from leather work to weaving.

Twelve homemaking courses including one cooking open to men only—have been consolidated into a new department reflecting the large turnout of women at night school.

Twelve recreational classes will give adults opportunity to participate in such things as EV 5-111.

'Hiding

Christianity'

GRAND FORKS (CP) — Mrs. Lois Hagen, CCF MLA seeking re-election in the Sept. 12 provincial election, said Tuesday night Highways Minister Gagliardi has launched "vile attacks" on labor while "hiding behind Christianity."

"The man holds up his hands in the legislature and says he is getting direction from God so he cannot tell a lie."

"Yet he knew he was telling an untruth here last week when he called us the CCF Communist party. He knows we are the biggest enemies of Communism."

Mrs. Hagen, who won her seat by 11 votes in 1956, was addressing 150 persons at a meeting in her Grand Forks Greenwood riding.

He told a public meeting of about 500 persons that Wengren interests have spent $9,000,000 on surveys by the best engineers in the world on the project.

"As far as I understand it they are going right along with their plans and I'm confident that Peace River power will be developed. I'm one of those who thinks that we need the power from both the Columbia and the Peace Rivers."

OFFERED B.C. HYDRO

The premier said northern waters were offered to B.C. Hydro some years ago, but they were not interested. B.C. Hydro was interested in developing the Columbia when that great billion-dollar plan came into being.

"Our government is one that believes in both private and public enterprise and we will need all the capital that can be obtained by both government guarantees and private enterprise."

The premier made much the same speech he did in opening his northern election campaign in Fort St. John Monday night. But at one point referring to the homeowner grant—raised this year to $50 as a tax reduction measure for homeowners—revelations came from day.

"As revenues increase we will certainly increase it—but that is not a promise."

14c Boost
For Railway
'Non-Ops'

OTTAWA (CP) — The majority report of the Milvain Conciliation Board today recommended a three-stage wage boost amounting to 14 cents an hour for some 118,000 "no-op" railway workers across Canada.

The majority proposal—slightly more than half the pay increase originally demanded by the 15 "no-op" unions—was put forward by Mr. Justice J. V. Milvain of Calgary, board chairman, and endorsed fully by David Lewis, Toronto lawyer and CCF national president, nominated by the unions.

Montreal lawyer Philip Vineberg, railway nominee, opposed the wage award.

(In Montreal Frank Hall, chief negotiator for the unions, said he expects the "no-ops" to accept the award.)

The compromise settlement, not binding on either the six railways or the 15 unions involved in the dispute, calls for a two-year contract to Dec. 31, 1961, with:

1. An hourly increase of two cents retroactive to Jan. 1.
2. Another five-cent hourly pay boost effective Sept. 1.

Aims to Halt
Tribal War

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — The central Congolese government poured more than 1,000 troops into Kasai Province today to put down a secessionist movement and end bloody tribal warfare that has claimed "thousands" of lives.

Congolese premier Patrice Lumumba airlifted the troops into the Kasai capital of Luluabourg Tuesday to overthrow the so-called "mining state" proclaimed two weeks ago by Baluba tribal chief Albert Kalonji.

Kalonji declared the mining state independent of the rest of the Congo, announced he was his new president and allied himself with president Moïse Tshombe of the secessionist Katanga province.

Kalonji claimed in the Kasai capital of Elisabethville today that 300 warriors have died in fighting between the Lulua and Baluba tribes around Luluabourg since Tuesday.

He added that "thousands" have been killed in bitter fighting since the Congo won its independence June 30.

Such warfare between the two primitive tribes has gone

Move to Block
Military Arms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted today to shut off all foreign aid money to any country which provides military arms or economic assistance to Cuba.

It adopted the proposal, made by Senator Styles Bridges (Rep.—N.H.), as an amendment to a pending $3,989,054,000 foreign aid money bill.

Under the amendment, funds would be withheld from any country which, in the president's judgment, "directly or indirectly is selling arms, munitions or implements of war, to the Castro regime in Cuba, or directly or indirectly is giving or loaning military or economic aid to that regime."

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — State Secretary Christian Herter today urged American foreign ministers to show their grave concern over Cuba's "toleration and encouragement of Communist intervention in the hemisphere's affairs."

Taking up the Cuba question at the meeting of the Organization of American States' foreign ministers, Herter declared events indicate Cuba's leaders are directing the island nation "in the Communist direction."

Herter named the Soviet Union and Red China as the Communist powers moving in on the hemisphere and said:

"We should call for effective resistance to these efforts of the Sino-Soviet bloc and restate the validity of our regional association and its principles as guide and instrument for our continued co-operation."

Herter did not spell out what steps should be taken.

APPEAL TO CUBA

Some of the foreign ministers already have urged Cuba to disavow its ties with the Soviet Union and Red China and reaffirm its faith in the inter-American system.

Cuban Premier Fidel Castro promptly spat on the invitation, telling a meeting in Havana:

"We will be friends of the Soviet Union and the People's Republic of China... We are friends of those who are our friends... With the OAS or without the OAS, we will triumph."

Castro's new defiance was expected to bring a further hardening toward him at the meeting here.

ANTI-CASTRO STAND

In the conference's first working session on the Communist problem Tuesday, four of Cuba's Latin American neighbors took stands in which Castro could find little solace.

A fifth, Venezuela, implied Castro should call free elections.

Colombian Foreign Minister Julio Turbay Ayala, summarizing non-Cuban thinking at the conference, said his government "hopes that Cuba will

Doctrine
Still Good

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower said today that when the chips are down, the U.S. would invoke the Monroe Doctrine and take action against any foreign domination in Latin America.

The president did not spell out what precise situation would bring direct action by the United States nor what type of action might be taken.

He told his news conference although the United States is operating through an international group—the Organization of American States (OAS)—in Latin America, this does not mean this country would not take action in its own interest if necessary.

Armed Forces
Standing By?

HAVANA (AP) — The semi-official newspaper Revolucion declared today the U.S. government has ordered all its military forces in the Caribbean to be ready to carry out "whatever intervention" the Organization of American States orders against Cuba.

It said U.S. parachute troops and air force units are assembled within a short distance of the Caribbean and transports loaded with marines are standing by at the Puerto Rican island of Vieques under the guise of manoeuvres.

Revolucion told its readers President Eisenhower had ordered an increase in military preparations to combat communism in the Caribbean.

Chinese Arrested

WINNIPEG (CP) — RCMP today announced the arrest of Louis P. Poirier, on charges of conspiracy in connection with alleged illegal entry of Chinese to Canada.

FINLAYSON RAPS SOCRED SPENDING

'Brain-Washing Campaign'

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP) — B.C. Progressive Conservative leader Deane Finlayson said Tuesday night the Social Credit party has launched a $2,000,000 "brain-washing campaign" to convince electors it has provided the "best government the province ever had."

"They are spending $50,000 a day," he told a meeting here.

"It's going to cost them $2,000,000 by Sept. 12."

Mr. Finlayson, off on a flying tour of the province, said the Pacific Northern Railway is a "figment of the imagination" which would be funny if it were not for the fact that it has attracted unemployed persons to jobs which don't exist.

He said the premier gathered together a "scratch team" of friends to set up a development company for the PNR.

"Then they had the callousness and inhuman temerity to go through with a start on construction with no intention of carrying it out," he said.

Mr. Finlayson said his party, if returned to power, would relieve Swedish financier Alex Wenner-Gren of his interests in development of the Peace River and substitute public development.

Reprieved Slayer of Girl
Will Never Be Released

See earlier story Page 27.

OTTAWA (CP) — The cabinet today gave orders to the National Parole Board never to release convicted murderer Ronald Harry McCorquodale of Calgary from custody.

McCorquodale, 25, was found guilty of the murder of Lynne LeFurgey, 10, in the basement of a Calgary church last November. His death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment last week.

Solicitor-General Leon Balcer, whose duties include reviewing all capital sentences before they are studied by cabinet, and who is also acting minister of justice in the holiday absence of E. Davie Fulton, said that McCorquodale is insane and will never recover.

Mr. Balcer made the announcement after this morning's cabinet meeting.

"The cabinet has instructed the parole board that this man should never be released from custody," he said.

MOTHER PROTESTED

The murdered girl's mother, Mrs. Muriel LeFurgey, protested Tuesday in Calgary against the commutation of McCorquodale's sentence to life imprisonment.

"Mr. Balcer said the cabinet's order to the parole board was made after it had received the advice of Dr. J. P. S. Cathcart, Ottawa psychiatrist, who formerly advised the veterans affairs department. Since the Diefenbaker government took office in 1957, Mr. Balcer said, Dr. Cathcart has examined all persons convicted of capital offences after their trials, whether or not they were suspected of insanity.

"Dr. Cathcart examined this accused and declared him insane and said that his mind is deteriorating, and that he will never recover," Mr. Balcer said.

Commutation of a death penalty to life imprisonment usually means that the convict can be released from penitentiary for good behavior in as few as 10 years. Mrs. LeFurgey, advised of the commutation of McCorquodale's sentence, expressed shock at the decision and asked why she should support him with taxes.
